Solomon HARKEY, Hillsboro, was born in Iredell County, N. C., December 26, 1806; son of Martin and Christina (MENSINGER) HARKEY. Martin, who was a farmer by occupation, was born in North Carolina February 24, 1771, where he married October 9, 1794. In 1830, he left North Carolina and came to Hillsboro, where he died February 16, 1846. His wife, a native of North Carolina, was born February 12, 1775, and died at her son's (subject's) house in Hillsboro, September 17, 1850. Solomon, the fourth of a family of eleven, received but very little education, the schools of that day being very inferior to those of to-day. The school which he attended was a log cabin with an earthen floor, and the books studied were Dilworth's Spelling Book and Pike's Arithmetic, the Bible being the only reader. He began life as a tanner, and followed that business from April, 1829, to March 1833, in Edwardsville, Ill.; thence he removed to Hillsboro, where he followed the tanning business for ten years, when he abandoned it and became a farmer. He owns a fine farm of 653 acres in Hillsboro Township, a fine two-story frame residence, and five lots and five acres of land in the town of Hillsboro, besides about 200 acres in Wisconsin. He has been a noted horseman in his day, and has handled many fine ones. He made a specialty of draught horses. In Hillsboro Township, March 31, 1831, he married Sophia CRESS, born in North Carolina March 26, 1809, daughter of Jacob and Catharine (BOST) CRESS, both natives of North Carolina. She (Sophia) came to Illinois with her parents about the year 1817, and died December 21, 1878. Mr. HARKEY was again married October 30, 1879, to Mrs. Eleanor T. (McHENRY) EVANS, born July 11, 1826, daughter of George McHENRY. He has had nine children, four of whom are dead - William P., now in Yuba City, Cal.; Jacob M., Solomon S., Sarah C., wife of Benjamin WILTON; Virginia T., Laura L. (deceased), Martha J. (Deceased), Mary S. (deceased), and Daniel L. (deceased). During his business career he met with many reverses; in 1861, he lost $2,060 by the failure of a New York bank; in 1878, he lost $2,700 by the Farmers Mechanics' Bank, of Hillsboro; and in December, 1881, he lost about $2,700 by the failure of Haskell Bros. & Co., of Hillsboro. He and his wife are members of the Methodist Church; he is a member of the I. O. O. F.; in politics he supports the Republican party.

"Martin HARKEY, farmer, P. O. Nokomis, who came with his parents from North Carolina and settled at Hillsboro, Montgomery Co., Ill., when there were only eight log cabins (1830); he was born in North Carolina in 1813, and is the son of Martin and Christina (MESINGER) HARKEY, who were natives of Pennsylvania, from where they emigrated to North Carolina in an early day; they both died in this county at a ripe old age, and were both respected citizens, and members of the Lutheran Church. Our subject's boyhood days were spent at Hillsboro, and working on a farm; he received a common school education, and began life for himself at the age of twenty-two, by farming, which occupation has ever been his vocation. In 1835, he married Mary, daughter of Jacob and Catharine (BOST) CRESS; she was born in North Carolina in 1815, and came with her parents to this county in 1818; they settled close to Hillsboro, and followed farming; father was born in 1779, and died in this county in 1865; his wife was born in 1786, and died in 1859; they were both members of the Lutheran Church. Mr. HARKEY, by hard work and economy, has secured a good farm of 300 acres, and a good property in Nokomis. To Mr. and Mrs. HARKEY have been born nine children - six sons and three daughters - Sophia C., dead; Harriet R., dead; Henry L., in California; Jane E., wife of E. BRIGHTMAN, in California; George W., dead; Jacob M., Thomas P., James M., and one dying in infancy. Mr. and Mrs. HARKEY are members of the Presbyterian Church, and strong advocates of the temperance cause, and, in fact, everything that pertains to good and the promotion of society."

"F. O. PADDOCK, lumber-dealer, Nokomis, was born in Argyle, Wis., December 16, 1853, son of Oscar H. and Ann (THREADGOLD) PADDOCK, he, born in Woodstock, Vt., June 12, 1830, came to Illinois at an early day, and is now in the lumber business at Pana, Ill., and with his son (subject) at Nokomis; she, a native of Yorkshire, England, was born December 12, 1836. Subject received a good business education, and engaged in business at Pana, Ill., where he dealt in lumber and building material; thence he moved to Nokomis, where he carries on the same business; he has the largest stock of any dealer in his line in Montgomery County, and does an extensive trade. At St. Joseph, Mo., August 28, 1877, he married Ada PLATT, born in Brooklyn, N. Y., April 8, 1855, daughter of Rudolphus T. and Mary (NARES) PLATT, he born in Clifton Park, N. Y., August 1, 1832, died in May, 1876; she, a native of Geneva, N. Y., born November 8, 1834; from this union, one child, Jessie F., now three years old, has been born. Mr. Paddock is of old Revolutionary stock; his great-grandfather and grand-uncles were Revolutionary soldiers, and he is an honor to the stock from whence he springs."

"Thomas J. WHITTEN, M. D., Nokomis, was born in Montgomery County, Ill, February 21, 1844, son of Austin and Keziah (CASEY) WHITTEN, he, born in Newberry District, S. C., November 29, 1802, came to Illinois at an early day, where he followed farming until his death, which occurred May 12, 1869; she, also a native of South Carolina, born March 15, 1799, died in Montgomery County, Ill., October 1, 1856. Subject began the study of medicine in 1856, and graduated at the Jeffereson Medical College of Philadelphia, Penn., in 1867; he began the practice of his profession at Hillsboro in 1867, remaining there till 1880, when he came to Nokomis; he now ranks as one of the leading physicians of Montgomery County. He served as Hospital Steward at Fort Prickren from 1862 till the close of the war. At Hillsboro, Ill., January 2, 1868, he married Sophia C. HARKEY, born in Montgomery county February 3, 1843, daughter of George and Martha S. (MASTERS) HARKEY, natives of North Carolina, he, born April 5, 1804, died October 29, 1856; she, born June 7, 1803, died August 13, 1852. From this marriage four children have been born, viz: Harry Hood, George Ernest, Lelia Grace and Lester Cook. The Doctor is a member of the Lutheran Church, a member of the Masonic fraternity, and an Odd Fellow; is Secretary of the County Medical Society, and has officiated as President of the Central Illinois District Society."

"Henry WUBKER, merchant, Witt, was born in Jacksonville, Ill., August 21, 1844, son of William and Lena (MAAS) WUBKER; the former, born near Minden, Prussia, February 10, 1816; the later, in Hanover City, Hanover, Germany, August 21, 1818. Our subject, the eldest of six children, received the foundation of his education at Jacksonville, Ill.; he also attended school near Virginia, in Cass County, Ill., and, in 1871 and 1872, attended Chicago University, Chicago, Ill., where he finished his education. Mr.

WUBKER was engaged in farming and in teaching school till the year 1873; in that year, he removed to Irving, Montgomery County, and engaged in the mercantile business there until 1878, when he removed to Witt, and there carries on an extensive business in dry goods, drugs and agricultural implements. At Irving, Montgomery County, May 3, 1876, he married Lucy A COWELL, born in Staunton, Macoupin Co., Ill., September 27, 1854, daughter of John and Caroline (TRUITT) COWELL; there have been born to them two children - Hubert L., who died July 5, 1881; and Henry T. Mr WUBKER is a man of fine business abilities; in politics, he is a Democrat; he is a member of the A., F. & A. M., and Knights of Honor."

Here is what you asked for from page 307.

"S. P. TROUTMAN, Fillmore, was born in Cabarrus County, N. C., October 3, 1822, and has a good, practical education. He commenced business for himself as a farmer; coming to Montgomery County at eighteen years of age, stayed there two and a half years, working on the farm, and then returned to North Carolina, where he remained until 1847. He served about eighteen months in The Mexican war, having enlisted under Gen. Zachary TAYLOR; went back to North Carolina; remained there until August, 1849, when he returned to Montgomery county, Ill., and worked on the farm one month, and at different other occupations until 1852, when he entered 120 acres of raw prairie land on which there were no improvements of any kind. He has since added eighty acres, making 200 acres of good, tillable land, on which he has erected a good and substantial dwelling, with all necessary outbuildings. He also owns ninety-two acres of land one and a half miles west of his home lace, Section 30. He was married in Montgomery County in the year 1852, to Miss Sarah HILL, a native of that county, who died in 1853. She was the mother of one child, dead. His second wife, Mary A. SHEPPARD, a native of Illinois; died in 1865. She was the mother of eight children, only five of whom are living. Christina L. CRUSE, his third wife, was born in Union County, Ill., in 1822. Henry CRUSE, her father, was born in North Carolina, and was a farmer by occupation. Her mother was also a native of North Carolina. Jacob TROUTMAN, subject's father, was born in North Carolina; served in the war of 1812; was a farmer by occupation, and died about 1829. Christina WALKER(WALCHER), subject's mother, was born in North Carolina, and died in 1850; was the mother of eight children, the subject being the third child. He has an elder brother living in North Carolina. He is a member of the Lutheran Church. He is independent in regard to the political issues of the day; has always done his utmost in aid of public improvements, and the advancement of agricultural interests."

"Monroe BOST was born in North Carolina in 1833, and came to Macoupin county, Ill., when twenty-seven years of age, and remained one year; he then moved to Montgomery County and bought the place he now owns, in Irving Township, his first purchase being sixty acres, and has added to that until he now owns 140 acres of good tillable land, on which he has erected a good dwelling and barn, and all necessary outbuildings, and was married, in this State, the 20th of December, 1860, to Miss Rebecca LIPE, she being the mother of eight children, and died December 3, 1877; Wilson LIPE, her father, was born in North Carolina; occupation, farmer; and died in 1881; Nancy LIPE, her mother, was also a native of North Carolina, and still living in this county. Levi BOST, his father, was born in North Carolina about 1806 occupation, farmer; Catherine RAYMER BOST, his mother, was also born in the same State, about 1812; she was the mother of ten children, the subject being the third child. His second wife, Elizabeth EASTERLY, was born in this State April 27, 1852; wife is a member of Lutheran Church, and he is a member of Presbyterian Church; he is a Republican."

"Julius CARRIKER was born in this county in 1856, August 8, and assisted his father on the farm until twenty-one years of age; was educated in common schools of country, and entered on his business career as a farmer and running a threshing machine; has always remained on the old homestead, and is now in full Possession, having bought out his father; he has a beautiful home, with all necessary buildings and modern improvements to make agriculture a success; he has the name of being an energetic and enterprising young farmer; married, in this county, in 1877, to Miss Lizzie MORAINE; she was born in this county in 1858, and is the mother of two children, Pearla and Stella; James MORAINE, her father, was born in Madison County, Ohio, February 24, 1828, and is a farmer by occupation; was brought to this State at ten years of age by his parents, and has been a very successful farmer, accumulating a large tract of land; her mother, Sarah (LIPE) MORAINE, was born in this county January 10, 1832; her parents were natives of North Carolina, and are all large landowners. His father, John CARRIKER, was born in North Carolina, and has accumulated a large landed estate, which he has divided among his children, and retired to a comfortable home in the town of Irving, and is doing a small nursery business; his mother is also a native of North Carolina, and is the mother of nine children, the subject being the sixth child. They are blessed with a beautiful home and two lovely children; are members of Lutheran Church; he is a Democrat."

"Isaac LEWEY, farmer, P. O. Irving, was born in North Carolina, November 5, 1822, and came to Montgomery County in June, 1843, and was in the Mexican war in 1846 and 1847; was discharged on account of ill health; came back to Irving Township, and commenced farming on land he received for his services in the war, and has added to that until he now owns 400 acres of good tillable land, on which he has erected a very good in dwelling and very fine barn, and everything in proportion. He married Miss BROWN in 1847, in this county, her parents being natives of Tennessee; three children were the result of this union; she, the mother, died March 12, 1855, and his second wife, Miss Elizabeth GRIFFITH, was born in this State in 1831; John FRIFFITH, her father, was born in Tennessee in March, 1808; occupation, farming; Harriet (PYATT) GRIFFITH, her mother, was born in 1811, in Tennessee, and she was the mother of ten children. The father of our subject, John LEWEY, was born in North Carolina; occupation, farming; and died about 1863; and his mother was also born in the same State November 5, 1842, and she was the mother of fourteen children, the subject being the eight child. He has a family of four children, and owns a nice home in the town of Irving, where he now resides, and has it handsomely improved; members of the Lutheran Church; politically, a Republican.

George W. LEWEY, farmer, P. O. Irving, was born in Montgomery County December 23, 1853, son of Isaac LEWEY, a native of North Carolina. Subject received his early education in the common schools of Montgomery County, and finished at Carthage College; he also took a business course a the commercial College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; from Poughkeepsie he returned home and remained till he was twenty-one years old, assisting his father on the farm; he then began his business career as a merchant in Nokomis, Ill., in partnership with T. H. LANE; at the end of a year, they moved their business to Witt, where they stayed nine months; then removed to Raymond, where they carried on their business successfully for three years; Mr. LEWEY then sold out his share in the business, and bought a livery stable in Raymond; but, after being in the livery business nine months, he sold out and returned to the homestead farm, of which he has full charge and control, his father having retired from active life and moved to the town of Irving; the farm, which is an excellent one, has all the modern improvements. In Montgomery County, in October, 1877, he married Augusta F. LANE, a native of that county, born in March, 1857, daughter of J. B. and Susan (BOST) LANE, natives of North Carolina. Mr. LEWEY is a Republican; his wife is a member of the Old Presbyterian Church."

"Samuel R. WILEY, farmer, P. O. Irving, was born in Montgomery County, Ill., February 13, 1837, son of Zachariah and Elizabeth (MANN) WILEY; Zachariah WILEY, a farmer by occupation, was born in Virgina March 2, 1804; came to Montgomery County, Ill., in 1820, with his father, and took up a farm, where he died in 1842; his wife, who was the mother of six children, subject being the third child, was born January 14, 1806, and died in 1868. The subject of this sketch was educated in the common schools of Montgomery County; after his father's death, he took charge of the homestead farm, and managed it for his mother till he was twenty-eight years of age, when he began business for himself by purchasing a farm of 120 acres of land, to which he has since added 160 acres more, on which, at the time of purchase, was a small house, the farm, with the exception of thirty acres, being unbroken prairie; by industry and perseverance, he now has his farm in a fine state of cultivation, with comfortable dwelling, fine barn, and all necessary outbuildings; he raises quite a number of ShortHorn cattle, as well as horses and mules; has all the latest improved farm machinery. In Montgomery county, Ill., in 1862, he married Sophia A. CARRIKER, born in North Carolina in 1844, daughter of John and Mary L. CARRIKER, he, a farmer, born in North Carolina, is now living in the town of Irving; she, also a native of North Carolina, is the mother of seven children, all of whom are living. Mr. and Mrs. WILEY are members of the M. E. Church; they have six children. Mr. Wiley has been school Director for twenty years, and still holds that position; he is a Democrat."

Daniel P. ROGERS, farmer, P. O. Litchfield. That there is no "royal road to success" is well illustrated in the history of Mr. ROGERS. In 1861, he entered 160 acres of land near where Bulter now stands; this land was entered with the proceeds of an interest in a wheat crop raised on his father's farm. April 12, 1854, he married Miss Lavina C., daughter of James and Rebecca (PARKS) SINCLAIR. In 1855, he sold out his land near Bultler and bought 120 acres of fine land in Zanesville Township, where he now resides; the same season, he "broke out" forty acres; when this land was broken, the prairie grass, then several feet in height, appeared as a wall surrounding it on every side; the next season, a small frame house was erected, into which he moved. He has continued to improve and add to his farm until it now amounts to about three hundred and eighty acres of good land - 320 in cultivation; this land is very rich and well drained. The ROGERS family descended from German ancestry, who came to the United States when they were dependent colonies. Capt. Henry ROGERS, Mr. ROGERS' grandfather, won his epaulets as a Revolutionary soldier; he distinguished himself at the battle of Trenton, and the sword which he took from a Hussein officer is now in the Possession of the grandson, the subject of this sketch. Henry ROGERS, after the close of the war, settled in New Jersey, where William H. Mr. ROGERS, father, was born. William raised thefollowing family by his wife, formerly Miss Catharine PERRINE; Henry, of Monmouth County, N. J.; Robert, who died in California; Daniel P. and Charles A., of Montgomery County; Mrs. Elizabeth WOOD, deceased; Mrs. Catherine (CORNELIUS) DEY, of Macoupin County; Mrs. Sarah (Edward) ATKINSON, of St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Margaret (Capt. Charles) BORDEN, deceased, of Fall River, Mass.; and Mrs. Jane (William) PITMAN, of Jerseyville, Ill. Mr ROGERS is not only represented in the war giving birth and being to our liberties, through his immediate paternal ancestry, but also can boast of another grandfather, Robert PERRINE, his mother's father, who served in the Revolutionary war as a Captain; his sword is also handed down, and is now in the possession of Mr. Charles ROGERS, of Zanesville Township. Mrs. ROGERS also had two grandfathers who were Revolutionary soldiers – Grandfather SINCLAIR, on her father's side, and John PARKS, of her mother's lineage. Mr. and Mrs. ROGERS have the following children: William Pitman, Robert P., and Misses Lizzie A. and Jennie A.; one son, Tolbert A., died September 12, 1858. Mr. ROGERS' chances of an education were rather poor, never getting the opportunity to attend school during his school days more than two months in a year; he has nevertheless secured a fair business education; he certainly has a strong intellect and keen discrimination. He forms a part of the County Court as Supervisor for his township, and well does he fill the position; and many of his friends expect him to fill still higher positions in the gift of the people. Mrs. ROGERS is one of those whole souled, excellent Christian women whom we think it would be hard to praise too much. Mr. ROGERS and wife are members of the Baptist Church, and enjoy the friendship, confidence and esteem of all good people where they are known. With the greatest of pleasure we introduce them to the good people of Montgomery County, and shall ever regard the privilege as one of the most agreeable duties connected with a long, and we hope, a lasting friendship.

J. C. SINCLAIR, farmer, P. O. Litchfield, was born in Greene County, Ill., in 1837, to James and Rebecca (PARKS) SINCLAIR; father was born in Tennessee; was a farmer, and died in 1850; mother was born in Tennessee, and died in 1850; parents had nine children, subject being the fifth child; at the age of thirteen, left Greene County with his parents, and settled in Macoupin County, where he principally received his education; at the age of twenty, left Macoupin County and removed to Montgomery County, and settled upon the place where he now resides, and where he has ever since been engaged in tilling the soil of his beautiful farm of 1,300 acres; he rents the largest portion of the farm, having retired from active labor in 1881. In September, 1863, he married Elizabeth JONES, a native of Macoupin County, Ill., and the daughter of Lodowick JONES, from which union there have been born four children - James C., C. A., Eva M. and Vesta; in politics, unites with the Democratic part; subject's father was in the war of 1812.

"John M. TUMES, farmer, P. O. Butler, was born in Hillsboro, Montgomery Co., Ill., April 27, 1848, son of Thomas and Theresa (ALLEN) TUMES, he a native of Ireland, she of Illinois. They had eight children, John M. being the second in order of birth. Our subject received his education in the Hillsboro Academy, and commenced life teaming and farming, in which latter occupation he has been engaged to the present time. October 26, 1876, he married Mrs. Fannie M. (CHAPELL) HARKEY, whose husband, Daniel Lee HARKEY, died in 1875, leaving two children - Ida Sophia and Ella Lee. Mrs. TUMES is the daughter of George and Rebecca CHAPELL, the latter having departed this life in 1862. One child, Mattie H., has been born to Mr. and Mrs. TUMES. He is an Odd Fellow and a Democrat."

Alfred BLACKWELDER, whose portrait appears in this work, was born in Cabarrus County, N. C., near Concord, July 17, 1811. He started from his home, October 4, 1834, on horseback, and came through to Illinois, reaching Union County in twenty-one days, where a sister lived, and he remained there until April, 1835, when he came to Hillsboro, where he found the Circuit Court in session in a log house. (He has helped to build three courthouses since that time.) His earthly possessions, when he arrived here, were a small sorrel horse and $10 in money; he worked for $10 per month for three years, working first for Judge ROUNTREE, who held all the county offices, office-holding patriots being scarcer in those good old days than at present. He married, April 19, 1837, Miss Joanna SCHERER, daughter of Frederick SCHERER, of North Carolina, who came to this State about 1833. Mr. BLACKWELDER rented land until about 1840, when he bought eighty acres at $5 per acre, unimproved, in South Litchfield Township; be built on it a small frame house, and lived there about sixteen years, when he sold his farm to secure a larger tract for his growing boys, and, by exchange and purchase, secured 240 acres in the same locality, farmed it six years, and made great improvements upon it; when the Indianapolis & St. Louis Railroad was built, E. B. LITCHFIELD, through his agent, Maj. HUGGINS, bought this land at $20 per acre, and part of it became a portion of the town site of Litchfield. Mr. BLACKWELDER then bought of James TURNER 180 acres, and of John C. REED 240 acres, and these two tracts comprise the 420-acre farm of our subject, inclusive of his 100 acres of excellent timber. Very little or no improvements were made upon his land when Mr. BLACKWELDER purchased it, but he has so persistently and intelligently managed his possessions that it is at present in a high state of cultivation, and every acre is enclosed with fences. Since 1878, Mr. BLACKWELDER has relinquished the active management of his farm to his three sons; he has eight children living and married; four died when young; those living are Daniel Monroe, William Riley, Minerva C. (now Mrs. Robert MORRISON), Jacob Francis, David Alexander, John Martin, Harriet Louisa (now Mrs. Gideon DAVIS), Samuel Richard. All Mr. BLACKWELDER's sons are residents of Montgomery County, and all of them farmers; both sons-in-law are also residents of Montgomery County, and farmers. Mr. BLACKWELDER is a member of the Lutheran Church, and filled for twenty years the office of Deacon, or Elder, holding membership with his denomination for over fifty years. Mr. BLACKWELDER has always been a Democrat, casing his first Presidential vote for VanBUREN. His wife died January 31, 1876, being in her sixtieth year; they had been married almost forty years. The old gentleman says that, when the State road was laid out from Edwardsville to Taylorville, they plowed two furrows all the way through. Mr. BLACKWELDER has always been in favor of anything that might redound to the credit of his county, and is a man who has won and retained the respect of all.

James F. BLACKWELDER, physician, Litchfield. The BLACKWELDERs were originally from Germany, and settled in North Carolina before the Revolutionary war. The family name signifies "black forest." Peter BLACKWELDER was born near Concord, Cabarrus Co., N. C., in 1810, and came to Illinois in 1832, accompanied by a cousin, Alfred BLACKWELDER; they settled in Hillsboro, and came all the way on horseback. They purchased land, and Peter at one time owned a half-section in North Litchfield Township; by trade, he was a carpenter, and, in addition to this, he engaged in farming. He was a Lutheran, and was the first Superintendent of the Sunday school organized at the Long Branch Schoolhouse. This was long before the city of Litchfield was planned and laid out. He was a quiet, unassuming, worthy man, and, politically, was a Free-Soil Democrat. He married Mrs. Nellie WAGONER, daughter of Frederick SCHERER, of this county; she bore him four sons and three daughters, all of whom are living except the youngest daughter, who died in infancy. Peter BLACKWELDER died in 1855, and his wife in 1853. They were the parents of our subject, Dr. James F. BLACKWELDER, who was born in Montgomery County, Ill., in what is now North Litchfield Township, on August 2, 1841; he was educated in the Lutheran College building, which was then known as Hillsboro Academy. In 1861, he began the study of medicine under Dr. I. W. FINK, of Hillsboro, where he read until he entered the St. Louis Medical College, taking his first course in 1863. The following year, he entered the Cincinnati College of Medicine and Surgery, from which he graduated in June, 1864. A few days later, he entered the army of Gen. SHERMAN, and was assigned to duty at Marietta, Ga., as Acting Assistant Surgeon in hospital service, and for four months served there and at Atlanta, Ga. He was next Assistant Surgeon for the Thirty-second Illinois Infantry, and followed its fortunes on the memorable march to the sea; he continued until mustered out, at Washington D. C., in 1865. On his return from the army, he practiced at Hillsboro, Ill., for some three years, and at Moro, Madison County, for about the same length of time. In June, 1871, he located permanently at Litchfield, where he has built up a large and lucrative practice. He is a member of the Montgomery County Medical Society, of which he has been Secretary, and has also a membership in the District Medical Society. The Doctor has two sons.

Daniel M. BLACKWELDER was born in Montgomery County, near Hillsboro, February 27, 1839, and was raised to a life of farming, attending, in the meantime, the schools in his section. At twenty-one years of age, he began farming for himself. In 1861, he married Miss Helena CRESS, a native of North Carolina. He bought ten acres of timber land, and lived for nine years on the homestead, during which time he added to the original purchase until his tract contained 125 acres. Mr. BLACKWELDER has of late years paid considerable attention to fine stock- raising, principally sheep and hogs. He has served nine years as School Director, and seven years as commissioner of Highways; takes much interest in all improvements and in educational matters; he has two sons.

Israel FOGLEMAN, deceased. Melchoir FOGLEMAN was born in Cabarrus County, N. C., in 1779, and was educated in both English and German, afterward learning the trade of blacksmith. March 4, 1811, he was married to Elizabeth MEISENHEIMER, and, on the 17th day of June, 1812, a son was born to them, he being our subject, Israel FOGLEMAN, who was baptized March 4, 1813. In the autumn of 1813, Melchoir and family set out for the West, fist landing in Indiana, but, not being satisfied with the country, removed to Illinois, reaching the vicinity of what is now Walshville on the 6th of June, 1818, and for several months, the family, consisting of father, mother, the son and two daughters, subsisted chiefly on venison and honey, of which there was an abundance; Melchoir afterward (about 1820) removed to the West Fork, where he lived till 1824, then he moved to the Clear Spring Branch and built the grist-mill known as the old "Pepper Mill". They had two sons and one daughter born in Montgomery county, in addition to the children born before arriving there. Melchoir died February 10, 1827, and his widow remained at the mill. In 1832, Israel bought out James PARRISH, and commenced improving a farm near where Litchfield now is, building a house and removing his mother and the children into it in 1841. He enlisted in the Black Hawk war in 1832, being Sergeant in Capt. BOONE's company. Receiving a land warrant for services in the war, he entered another eighty acres, to which he added until he had 350 acres of land. In November, 1838, he married Miss Jane, daughter of Philip and Anna (KINCAID) CORLEW, who was born January 27, 1821. Mr. FOGLEMAN had borne all the vicissitudes of pioneer life, and was a man highly respected and trusted. It is said that he acted more frequently as administrator and executor of estates and guardian for minors than any other man in the county; he served as Commissioner, Justice of the Peace and School Treasurer; was a Democrat, and cast his first Presidential vote for "Old Hickory". He died June 17, 1876. He was the father of fourteen children, but six of whom are now living; of those dead, two died in infancy and three grew to maturity; those living are Amanda E., wife of William R. BLACKWELDER; John W., merchant in Miller County, Mo.; Sarah L, wife of W. Frank RAINEY, of Montgomery County; Alida M., Joel M. and William D. are at home.

Joel M. FOGLEMAN was born April 7, 1826; is a son of Melchoir and Elizabeth (MEISENHEIMER) FOGLEMAN. He lived with his mother near the old mill till he was fifteen years of age, and attended school in the old Clear Springs Baptist Church. In 1841, his mother, with her family, moved to what is now North Litchfield, and settled near her eldest son, Israel FOGLEMAN. Joel M. worked and improved his present place - a quarter of School Section 16, which had been purchased for him about the year 1843, till 1846, when he enlisted in Company C, Third Illinois Infantry, under Col. FORMAN and Gen. SHIELDS, and served in the Mexican war from June to November, but was taken sick and sent home from Matamoras, Mexico. He married, December 30, 1847, Nancy Jane CRABTREE, born in Edwards County, Ill., daughter of John CRABTREE, a native of Kentucky and an old Revolutionary soldier, who died about 1837, and who had twenty-two children, Mrs. FOGLEMAN being the twentieth child. Mr. and Mrs. FOGLEMAN are the parents of seven children, of whom two daughters died; those living are Henrietta, now Mrs. David A. BLACKWELDER; Eliza, now Mrs. Charles ROSE, of Montgomery County; John F.; Lizzie, now Mrs. Milton C. ASH; and William J. Mr. FOGLEMAN moved to his present place in 1848, having built a frame house, which is still standing, at the rear of his present residence; he has ever since remained on the same place, which is all under cultivation. His mother, who was born February 4, 1788, died April 27, 1850; her children are Israel, born June 17, 1812; Sarah, now Mrs. Dillard DUFF; Catharine, now Mrs. George FOREHAND; John, living in South Litchfield; Peter, died in infancy; Mary A., died in 1857; and Joel M. our subject. Mr. FOGLEMAN is a Democrat; he and his wife are members of the United Baptist Church.

"Henry WUBKER, merchant, Witt, was born in Jacksonville, Ill., August 21, 1844, son of William and Lena (MAAS) WUBKER; the former, born near Minden, Prussia, February 10, 1816; the later, in Hanover City, Hanover, Germany, August 21, 1818. Our subject, the eldest of six children, received the foundation of his education at Jacksonville, Ill.; he also attended school near Virginia, in Cass County, Ill., and, in 1871 and 1872, attended Chicago University, Chicago, Ill., where he finished his education. Mr. WUBKER was engaged in farming and in teaching school till the year 1873; in that year, he removed to Irving, Montgomery County, and engaged in the mercantile business there until 1878, when he removed to Witt, and there carries on an extensive business in dry goods, drugs and agricultural implements. At Irving, Montgomery County, May 3, 1876, he married Lucy A COWELL, born in Staunton, Macoupin Co., Ill., September 27, 1854, daughter of John and Caroline (TRUITT) COWELL; there have been born to them two children - Hubert L., who died July 5, 1881; and Henry T. Mr WUBKER is a man of fine business abilities; in politics, he is a Democrat; he is a member of the A., F. & A. M., and Knights of Honor."

"Isaac LEWEY, farmer, P. O. Irving, was born in North Carolina, November 5, 1822, and came to Montgomery County in June, 1843, and was in the Mexican war in 1846 and 1847; was discharged on account of ill health; came back to Irving Township, and commenced farming on land he received for his services in the war, and has added to that until he now owns 400 acres of good tillable land, on which he has erected a very good in dwelling and very fine barn, and everything in proportion. He married Miss BROWN in 1847, in this county, her parents being natives of Tennessee; three children were the result of this union; she, the mother, died March 12, 1855, and his second wife, Miss Elizabeth GRIFFITH, was born in this State in 1831; John FRIFFITH, her father, was born in Tennessee in March, 1808; occupation, farming; Harriet (PYATT) GRIFFITH, her mother, was born in 1811, in Tennessee, and she was the mother of ten children. The father of our subject, John LEWEY, was born in North Carolina; occupation, farming; and died about 1863; and his mother was also born in the same State November 5, 1842, and she was the mother of fourteen children, the subject being the eight child. He has a family of four children, and owns a nice home in the town of Irving, where he now resides, and has it handsomely improved; members of the Lutheran Church; politically, a Republican.

George W. LEWEY, farmer, P. O. Irving, was born in Montgomery County December 23, 1853, son of Isaac LEWEY, a native of North Carolina. Subject received his early education in the common schools of Montgomery County, and finished at Carthage College; he also took a business course a the commercial College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; from Poughkeepsie he returned home and remained till he was twenty-one years old, assisting his father on the farm; he then began his business career as a merchant in Nokomis, Ill., in partnership with T. H. LANE; at the end of a year, they moved their business to Witt, where they stayed nine months; then removed to Raymond, where they carried on their business successfully for three years; Mr. LEWEY then sold out his share in the business, and bought a livery stable in Raymond; but, after being in the livery business nine months, he sold out and returned to the homestead farm, of which he has full charge and control, his father having retired from active life and moved to the town of Irving; the farm, which is an excellent one, has all the modern improvements. In Montgomery County, in October, 1877, he married Augusta F. LANE, a native of that county, born in March, 1857, daughter of J. B. and Susan (BOST) LANE, natives of North Carolina. Mr. LEWEY is a Republican; his wife is a member of the Old Presbyterian Church."

"Samuel R. WILEY, farmer, P. O. Irving, was born in Montgomery County, Ill., February 13, 1837, son of Zachariah and Elizabeth (MANN) WILEY; Zachariah WILEY, a farmer by occupation, was born in Virgina March 2, 1804; came to Montgomery County, Ill., in 1820, with his father, and took up a farm, where he died in 1842; his wife, who was the mother of six children, subject being the third child, was born January 14, 1806, and died in 1868. The subject of this sketch was educated in the common schools of Montgomery County; after his father's death, he took charge of the homestead farm, and managed it for his mother till he was twenty-eight years of age, when he began business for himself by purchasing a farm of 120 acres of land, to which he has since added 160 acres more, on which, at the time of purchase, was a small house, the farm, with the exception of thirty acres, being unbroken prairie; by industry and perseverance, he now has his farm in a fine state of cultivation, with comfortable dwelling, fine barn, and all necessary outbuildings; he raises quite a number of ShortHorn cattle, as well as horses and mules; has all the latest improved farm machinery. In Montgomery county, Ill., in 1862, he married Sophia A. CARRIKER, born in North Carolina in 1844, daughter of John and Mary L. CARRIKER, he, a farmer, born in North Carolina, is now living in the town of Irving; she, also a native of North Carolina, is the mother of seven children, all of whom are living. Mr. and Mrs. WILEY are members of the M. E. Church; they have six children. Mr. Wiley has been school Director for twenty years, and still holds that position; he is a Democrat."

Daniel P. ROGERS, farmer, P. O. Litchfield. That there is no "royal road to success" is well illustrated in the history of Mr. ROGERS. In 1861, he entered 160 acres of land near where Bulter now stands; this land was entered with the proceeds of an interest in a wheat crop raised on his father's farm. April 12, 1854, he married Miss Lavina C., daughter of James and Rebecca (PARKS) SINCLAIR. In 1855, he sold out his land near Bultler and bought 120 acres of fine land in Zanesville Township, where he now resides; the same season, he "broke out" forty acres; when this land was broken, the prairie grass, then several feet in height, appeared as a wall surrounding it on every side; the next season, a small frame house was erected, into which he moved. He has continued to improve and add to his farm until it now amounts to about three hundred and eighty acres of good land - 320 in cultivation; this land is very rich and well drained. The ROGERS family descended from German ancestry, who came to the United States when they were dependent colonies. Capt. Henry ROGERS, Mr. ROGERS' grandfather, won his epaulets as a Revolutionary soldier; he distinguished himself at the battle of Trenton, and the sword which he took from a Hussein officer is now in the Possession of the grandson, the subject of this sketch. Henry ROGERS, after the close of the war, settled in New Jersey, where William H. Mr. ROGERS, father, was born. William raised the following family by his wife, formerly Miss Catharine PERRINE; Henry, of Monmouth County, N. J.; Robert, who died in California; Daniel P. and Charles A., of Montgomery County; Mrs. Elizabeth WOOD, deceased; Mrs. Catherine (CORNELIUS) DEY, of Macoupin County; Mrs. Sarah (Edward) ATKINSON, of St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Margaret (Capt. Charles) BORDEN, deceased, of Fall River, Mass.; and Mrs. Jane (William) PITMAN, of Jerseyville, Ill. Mr ROGERS is not only represented in the war giving birth and being to our liberties, through his immediate paternal ancestry, but also can boast of another grandfather, Robert PERRINE, his mother's father, who served in the Revolutionary war as a Captain; his sword is also handed down, and is now in the possession of Mr. Charles ROGERS, of Zanesville Township. Mrs. ROGERS also had two grandfathers who were Revolutionary soldiers – Grandfather SINCLAIR, on her father's side, and John PARKS, of her mother's lineage. Mr. and Mrs. ROGERS have the following children: William Pitman, Robert P., and Misses Lizzie A. and Jennie A.; one son, Tolbert A., died September 12, 1858. Mr. ROGERS' chances of an education were rather poor, never getting the opportunity to attend school during his school days more than two months in a year; he has nevertheless secured a fair business education; he certainly has a strong intellect and keen discrimination. He forms a part of the County Court as Supervisor for his township, and well does he fill the position; and many of his friends expect him to fill still higher positions in the gift of the people. Mrs. ROGERS is one of those whole souled, excellent Christian women whom we think it would be hard to praise too much. Mr. ROGERS and wife are members of the Baptist Church, and enjoy the friendship, confidence and esteem of all good people where they are known. With the greatest of pleasure we introduce them to the good people of Montgomery County, and shall ever regard the privilege as one of the most agreeable duties connected with a long, and we hope, a lasting friendship.

Daniel F. ROGERS, farmer, P. O. Litchfield. The father is an "Israel road to no end." In vain did he seek in the history of Mr. ROGERS, in 1861, he entered 160 acres of land near where Fairview now stands, and as soon as with the proceeds of an interest in a wheat mill received on his father's farm. April 22, 1864, he married Miss Louisa C., daughter of James and Rebecca (PARKER) BRICKLAIR. In 1865, he sold out his land and, Indian-like, bought 120 acres of the land in Montgomery. Immediately, where he now resides, he started stakes, as "broke out" forty acres, when this land was broken, the prairie grass then received fire in height, appearing like a well timbered country in every sense; the next season, a small frame house was erected, and soon with its owner. He has since added to improvements and to his farm until it now abounds in all about these boundaries and county means of good food – 320 a. cultivated; this farm is very rich and well farmed. The ROGERS family emigrated from Ohio to Montgomery, who came to the United States when they were depredation colonies. Capt. Henry ROGERS, Mr. ROGERS' great-father, was an officer in a Revolutionary soldier; he distinguished himself at the battle of Trenton, and the sword which he took from a Hessian officer is now in the possession of the grandson, the subject of this sketch. Henry ROGERS, father, he died at the age of 80, resided in New Jersey, where William H. Mr. ROGERS, father, was born. William married the following family by his wife, formerly Miss Catharine PRICKLAIR; Henry, of Montgomery County, N. J.; Barbara, who died in California; Cornelia F. and Charles A., of Montgomery County, Mo.; Elizabeth WOOD, deceased; Mrs. Catharine H. CONKLIN; DEY, of Macoupin County, Mo.; Sarah (deceased) A. TWINING, of St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Margaret (Capt. Charles) ROGERS, deceased, of Pittsburg; Mary and Mrs. Jane (William) PRIMAM, of Jerseyville, Ill. Mr. ROGERS is not only a prominent in his own growing lands and being in our Member, through his numerous patronal acquaintance, but also can boast of a worthy grandfather. Robert ROGERS, his mother's father, who served in the Revolutionary war as a Captain, his sword is also handed down, and is now in the possession of Mr. Charles ROGERS, of Zanesville, Township. Mrs. ROGERS also had two grandfathers who were in military service – Cornelius SERGEANT, on her father's side, and John PARKS, of her mother's lineage. Mr. and Mrs. ROGERS have the following children: William Fitman, Robert F., and Albert Lincoln A., and Jerome A.; one son, Talbert A., died September 11, 1878. Mr. ROGERS' chances of an education were rudimentary, never getting the opportunity to attend school during his school day's more than ten months in a year, he has nevertheless secured a fair business education, he certainly has a strong intellect and keen discernment. He farms a part of his County Court as Supervisor for the township, and well does he fill the position, and many of the things he also in fill well higher positions in the gift of the people. Mrs. ROGERS is one of those whole-souled, intelligent Christian women whom we think it would be hard to praise too much. Mr. ROGERS and wife are members of the Fairview Church, and enjoy the friendship, confidence and esteem of all good people wherever they are known. In his premises to glean are necessary than to be good people of Montgomery County, we shall ever regard the privilege as one of the most agreeable duties connected with a long, and we hope, a happy life.

In 1861, he entered 160 acres of land near where Bulter now stands; this land was entered with the proceeds of an interest in a wheat crop raised on his father's farm. April 12, 1854, he married Miss Lavina C., daughter of James and Rebecca (PARKS) SINCLAIR. In 1855, he sold out his land near Bultler and bought 120 acres of fine land in Zanesville Township, where he now resides; the same season, he "broke out" forty acres; when this land was broken, the prairie grass, then several feet in height, apeared as a wall surrounding it on every side; the next season, a small frame house was erected, into which he moved. He has continued to improve and add to his farm until it now amounts to about three hundred and eighty acres of good land - 320 in cultivation; this land is very rich and well drained. History of Bond and Montgomery Counties, Illinois – 1882.

"S. P. TROUTMAN, Fillmore, was born in Cabarrus County, N. C., October 3, 1822, and has a good, practical education. He commenced business for himself as a farmer; coming to Montgomery County at eighteen years of age, stayed there two and a half years, working on the farm, and then returned to North Carolina, where he remained until 1847. He served about eighteen months in The Mexican war, having enlisted under Gen. Zachary TAYLOR; went back to North Carolina; remained there until August, 1849, when he returned to Montgomery county, Ill., and worked on the farm one month, and at different other occupations until 1852, when he entered 120 acres of raw prairie land on which there were no improvements of any kind. He has since added eighty acres, making 200 acres of good, tillable land, on which he has erected a good and substantial dwelling, with all necessary outbuildings. He also owns ninety-two acres of land one and a half miles west of his home lace, Section 30. He was married in Montgomery County in the year 1852, to Miss Sarah HILL, a native of that county, who died in 1853. She was the mother of one child, dead. His second wife, Mary A. SHEPPARD, a native of Illinois; died in 1865. She was the mother of eight children, only five of whom are living. Christina L. CRUSE, his third wife, was born in Union County, Ill., in 1822. Henry CRUSE, her father, was born in North Carolina, and was a farmer by occupation. Her mother was also a native of North Carolina. Jacob TROUTMAN, subject's father, was born in North Carolina; served in the war of 1812; was a farmer by occupation, and died about 1829. Christina WALKER(WALCHER), subject's mother, was born in North Carolina, and died in 1850; was the mother of eight children, the subject being the third child. He has an elder brother living in North Carolina. He is a member of the Lutheran Church. He is independent in regard to the political issues of the day; has always done his utmost in aid of public improvements, and the advancement of agricultural interests."

Alfred BLACKWELDER, whose portarit appears in this work, was born in Cabarrus County, N. C., near Concord, July 17, 1811. He started from his home, October 4, 1834, on horseback, and came through to Illinois, reaching Union County in twenty-one days, where a sister lived, and he reamined there until April, 1835, when he came to Hillsboro, where he found the Circuit Court in session in a log house. (He has helped to build three court houses since that time.) His earthly possessions, when he arrived here, were a small sorrel horse and $10 in money; he worked for $10 per month for three years, working first for Judge ROUNTREE, who held all the county offices, office-holding patriots being scarcer in tose good old days than at present. He married, April 19, 1837, Miss Joanna SCHERER, daughter of Frederick SCHERER, of North Carolina, who came to this State about 1833. Mr. BLACKWELDER rented land until about 1840, when he bought eighty acres at $5 per acre, unimproved, in South Litchfield Township; be built on it a small fram house, and lived there about sixteen years, when he sold his farm to secure a larger tract for his growing boys, and, by exchange and purchase, secured 240 acres in the same locality, farmed it six years, and made great improvements upon it; when the Indianapolis & St. Louis Railroad was buitl, E. B. LITCHFIELD, through his agent, Maj. HUGGINS, bought this land at $20 per acre, and part of it became a portion of the town site of Litchfield. Mr. BLACKWELDER then bought of James TURNER 180 acres, and of John C. REED 240 acres, and these two tracts comprise the 420-acre farm of our subject, inclusive of his 100 acres of excellent timber. Very little or no improvements were made upon his land when Mr. BLACKWELDER purchased it, but he has so persistently and intelligently managed his possessions that it is at present in a high state of cultivation, and every acre is inclosed with fences. Since 1878, Mr. BLACKWELDERhas relinquished the active management of his farm to his three sons; he has eight children living and married; four died when young; those living are Daniel Monroe, William Riley, Minerva C. (now Mrs. Robert MORRISON), Jacob Francis, David Alexander, John Martin, Harriet Louisa (now Mrs. Gideon DAVIS), Samuel Richard. All Mr. BLACKWELDER's sons are residents of Montgomery County, and all of them farmers; both sons-in-law are also residents of Montgomery County, and farmers. Mr. BLACKWELDER is a member of the Lutheran Church, and filled for twenty years the office of Deacon, or Elder, holding membership with his denomination for over fifty years. Mr. BLACKWELDER has always been a Democrat, casing his first Presidential vote for VanBUREN. His wife died January 31, 1876, being in her sixtieth year; they had been married almost forty years. The old gentleman says that, when the State road was laid out from Edwardsville to Taylorville, they plowed two furrows all the way through. Mr. BLACKWELDER has always been in favor of anything that might redound to the credit of his county, and is a man who his denomination for over fifty years. Mr. BLACKWELDER has always been a Democrat, casting his first Presidential vote for VanBUREN. His wife died January 11, 1876, being in her sixtieth year; they had been married almost forty years. The old gentleman says that, when the State road was laid out from Edwardsville to Taylorville, they plowed two furrows all the way through. Mr. BLACKWELDER has always been in favor of anything that might redound to the credit of his county, and is a man who has won and retained teh respect of all.

James F. BLACKWELDER, physician, Litchfield. The BLACKWELDERs were originally from Germany, and settled in North Carolinabefore the Revolutionary war. The family name signifies "black forest." Peter BLACKWELDER was born near Concord, Cabarrus Co., N. C., in 1810, and came to Illinois in 1832, accompanied by a cousin, Alfred BLACKWELDER; they settled in Hillsboro, and came all the way on horseback. They purchased land, and Peter at one time owned a half-section in North Litchfield Township; by trade, he was a carpenter, and, in addition to this, he engaged in farming. He was a Lutheran, and was the first Superintendent of the Sunday school orgainzed at the Long Branch Schoolhouse. This was long before the city of Litchfiled was planned and laid out. He was a quiet, unassuming, worthy man, and, politically, was a Free-Soil Democrat. He married Mrs. Nellie WAGONER, daughter of Frederick SCHERER, of this county; she bore him four sons and three daughters, all of whom are living except the youngest daughter, who died in infancy. Peter BLACKWELDER died in 1855, and his wife in 1853. They were the parents of our subject, Dr. James F. BLACKWELDER, who was born in Montgomery County, Ill., in what is now North Litchfield Township, on August 2, 1841; he was educated in teh Lutheran College building, which was then known as Hillsboro Academy. In 1861, he began the study of medicine under Dr. I. W. FINK, of Hillsboro, where he read until he entered the St. Louis Medical College, taking his first course in 1863. The following year, he entered the Cincinnati College of Medicine and Surgery, from which he graduated in June, 1864. A few days later, he entered teh army of Gen. SHERMAN, and was assigned to duty at Marietta, Ga., as Acting Assistant Surgeon in hospital service, and for four months served there and at Atlanta, Ga. He was next Assistant Surgeon for the Thirty-second Illinois Infantry, and followed its fortunes on teh memborable march to the sea; he continued until mustered out, at Washington D. C., in 1865. On his return from the army, he practiced at Hillsboro, Ill., for some three years, and at Moro, Madison County, for about the same length of time. In June, 1871, he located permanently at Litchfield, where he has built up a large and lucrative practice. He is a member of teh Montgomery County Medical Society, of which he has been Secretary, and has also a membership in the District Medical Society. The Doctor has two sons.

Daniel M. BLACKWELDER was born in Montgomery County, near Hillsboro, February 27, 1839, and was raised to a life of farming, attending, in the meantime, the schools in his section. At twenty-one years of age, he began farming for himself. In 1861, he married Miss Helena CRESS, a native of North Carolina. He bought ten acres of timber land, and lived for nine years on the homestead, during which time he added to the original purchase until his tract contained 125 acres. Mr. BLACKWELDER has of late years paid considerable attention to fine stock-raising, principally sheep and hogs.

TODAY I received copies of the wills requested in my earlier letter below, HOWEVER, the will for John Walker was not complete, I received just the first page or beginning of the will which was at the bottom of the page--the remaining page or pages were not included. I am sure this is an oversight.

I am returning the copy of what I received and request that you add the remaining page or pages to it and return it to me since I have already remitted for this request.

I look forward to hearing from you.

State of Illinois : In the County Court;
:ss.
Montgomery County : To February Term, A. D. 1912.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF :
Daniel T. Walcher, deceased. :

To the Honorable John L. Dryer, Judge of the County Court of the County of Montgomery, in the State of Illinois:

Your petitioner, William Wilton, Administrator of the estate of Daniel T. Walcher, late of the County of Montgomery and State of Illinois, now deceased, respectfully represents unto your honor that the said Daniel T. Walcher departed this life at the City of Litchfield, Montgomery County, Illinois, on or about the twenty third day of September, A. D. 1910; that your petitioner was, on the twenty eighth day of September, A. D. 1910, duly appointed by the County Court of said Montgomery County, Illinois, as administrator of the estate of the said Daniel T. Walcher, deceased, as will more fully appear by his letters of administration; that the inventory and appraisement bill in said estate have been duly filed in the office of the Clerk of this Court and each duly approved by the Judge of this Court; that your petitioner, as administrator as aforesaid, has rendered to this Court a just and true account of the personal estate and debts of said deceased, a copy of which is hereto attached and made part of this petition, for reference and evidence, and marked "Exhibit A"; that the personal estate of said Daniel T. Walcher, deceased, as appears from the aforesaid account and exhibit, amounts to the sum of Forty seven and 75/100 dollars, and your petitioner knows of no claims or accounts due the estate of said deceased; that five claims have been probated against said estate and, while none of them have been allowed as yet by your petitioner or this Honorable Court, your petitioner estimates that just claims to the amount of One hundred seventy three and 90/100 dollars will hereafter be allowed against said estate; that the award made by the appraisers to the widow of said deceased amounts to the sum of Five hundred and fifty dollars, and the award made to the four minor children of deceased by said appraisers amounts to the further sum of Eight hundred dollars, which have each ~~be~~ been approved by this honorable Court, all of which will more fully appear from said account marked "Exhibit A"; that there has come into the hands of your petitioner personal estate to the amount of Forty seven and 75/100 dollars, which he has not as yet disposed of, and he doubts whether the same can be sold for that sum; that after your petitioner has applied all the proceeds of said personal estate which have come into his possession towards the payment of said debts, as by his account on file in this Court will more particularly appear, there will be and is now a deficiency of personal property to pay the debts of said deceased.

Your petitioner further represents that the said Daniel T. Walcher died seized of certain real estate in said County of Montgomery and State of Illinois, described as follows, to wit: Lots No. Twenty (20) and Twenty one (21) in Block No. Four (4) of Hood and Tully's Addition to the City of Litchfield; also Lots No. Fifteen (15) and Seventeen (17) in Block No. Three (3) of Paisley, now within the corporate limits of Witt; that said Lot No. Twenty (20) in said Block No. Four (4) of Hood and Tully's Addition to Litchfield is subject to a mortgage to secure the payment of a note for the sum of One hundred dollars and the interest thereon, executed on the eighteenth day of February, A. D. 1910, and recorded in the office of the Recorder of Deeds of Montgomery County, Illinois, on the nineteenth day of February, A. D. 1910, in Mortgage Record 59, at Page 237 thereof, said note being payable to Mary E. Ayers; that said Lots No. Twenty one (21) in said Block No. Four (4) of said Hood and Tully's Addition to Litchfield constituted the homestead of said deceased and was so occupied by him at the time of his decease.

Your petitioner further represents that said deceased left him surviving Mary E. Walcher, his widow, having a homestead interest in said Lot No. Twenty one (21) of Hood and Tully's Addition to Litchfield, and dower in the remaining real estate, except in so far as she had released the same by said mortgage above mentioned, and the following named children and only heirs at law him surviving, to wit: Fred Walcher, Benjamin Walcher, Charles Walcher, Elizabeth Walcher, Musa Henderson, Nora Hartman, Pearl Underfanger, Albert Walcher, Roy Walcher, Gladys Walcher, Theodore Walcher, Clyde Walcher, Chester Walcher and Russell Walcher; that of these children the following are minors or infants, each being under the age of his or her majority, respectively, to wit: Gladys Walcher, Theodore Walcher, Clyde Walcher, Chester Walcher and Russell Walcher.

Wherefore, in consideration of the premises, your petitioner prays that this Honorable Court may appoint some proper and discreet person as guardian ad litem for said infant or minor heirs to appear for them and defend their interest herein; that this Honorable Court may appoint commissioners to set off and allot the dower and homestead interests aforesaid in said real estate and will order and direct your petitioner to sell the real estate aforesaid according to law, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the debts of said deceased, and make such further order herein as to this Honorable Court may seem meet.

And may it please the Court to grant a writ of summons, directed to the sheriff of the County of Montgomery, commanding him that he summon the said Fred Walcher, Benjamin Walcher, Charles Walcher, Elizabeth Walcher, Musa Henderson, ~~xxxxxxxx~~ Albert Walcher, Clyde Walcher, Chester Walcher and Russell Walcher and Mary E. Ayers, each personally to be and appear before this Court on the first day of the February Term, A. D. 1912, then and there to answer this petition; and may it please the Court to grant the writ of summons directed to the sheriff of the County of Sangamon, commanding him that he summon the said Roy Walcher, Gladys Walcher, ~~and~~ Theodore Walcher Pearl Underfanger and Nora Hartman, each personally to be and appear before this Court on the First day of the February Term, A. D. 1912, then and there to answer this petition, etc.

And as in duty bound will ever pray, etc.

Wm Wilton
Administrator of the estate of Daniel T. Walcher, deceased.

State of Illinois :
:ss.
Montgomery County :

William Wilton being first duly sworn, on his oath says that he is the petitioner above named and that the matters and facts set forth in the above petition are true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY COURT HOUSE
HILLSBORO ILL. REPAIRED 1891

THE HISTORIC MONTGOMERY COUNTY COURTHOUSE

The Historic Montgomery County Courthouse was built over a period of time from 1868 to 1872, but contains in its walls fragments of an earlier courthouse which was well known to Abraham Lincoln.

The building as it stands today was designed in the romantic style called "Second Empire" by a Chicago architect, G. B. Randall. This style originated in France, but was very popular in this country after the Civil War, especially for public buildings. Mr. Randall's plans for the building have not been located, but we know that they included the use of some portions of earlier buildings.

Only the first courthouse was not recycled by our prudent forefathers. It was a hewn log structure erected on the east side of the square in 1823, when the population of the county numbered only about 500 persons. Luke Lea Steel was paid $344.53 1/3 for building it. When the second courthouse was built, the log building and lot were sold.

By 1833 the population of Montgomery County had risen to over 3000, and a new, more stylish courthouse was ordered to be built in the center of the public square. It was to be a frame building on a stone foundation, with a cupola on top. Aaron Knapp was paid $2 for drawing the plans, and the contract was awarded to Easton Whitten for $1800.00. Abraham Lincoln often spoke at political rallies held at this courthouse in the 1830's and 40's.

In 1852, the court called for proposals for repairing the courthouse and awarded a contract to Ira Millard for an unspecified amount. The "repairs" turned into a remodelling so extensive that some historians refer to this as the third courthouse. It has been described as a brick building with four white columns in front and may have looked somewhat like the present Hillsboro Public Library. The cost was over $4000.00.

The population of the county grew rapidly in the 1850's and 60's and, in 1868, the County Court held that "the courthouse in this county is too small and entirely unsuited to the condition and wants of the people." This is understandable, as the 1870 census showed 25,314 persons living in the county.

The possibility of a new courthouse inspired a proposal that it be built in Litchfield and the county seat moved there. Either to prevent this or simply to save money, the court ordered only the "change and improvement" of the courthouse and jail and appointed Joseph C. Hanner to oversee construction. The cost of the improvements was to be paid entirely from the sale of swamplands owned by the County.

At the July 1868 term of court, Hanner reported that the offices of the County and Circuit Clerks had been moved to the Clotfelter building on Main Street. Space was also provided there for holding court. That three story building on the east side of Main Street is still standing.

In May 1869 Hanner reported that the courthouse and jail were "covered in" and that "the old walls have been used as far as practicable, as well as the brick and stone where the same walls could not be used in their standing form."

The work seems to have gone rather slowly, but, even so, the County was forced to pay some contractors and suppliers with promissory notes instead of cash. These were redeemed when sufficient funds were received from swampland sales.

By September of 1870 the Circuit and County Clerks had moved back into the courthouse, although the building was unfinished. The Hillsboro News Letter estimated that, when complete, the cost of the bulding would be $100,000.00 which the editors felt was "a very small amount for so fine a structure." Actually, the final cost would be over $130,000.00, but this included furnishings, the iron fence and sidewalk, architect's and supervisor's fees, etc.

The courthouse appears to have been completed by 1872, but final accounting was not made to the Court until the March term in 1873.

It would be interesting to know whether county residents of that day objected to the newfangled design or the cost of the building, but evidence is lacking. Early historians all seem to agree with William Henry Perrin, who wrote in 1882, "It is a handsome and imposing structure and a credit to the county and its people."

An unusual feature of the courthouse was the county jail which was located on the third floor, with the sheriff's living quarters on the second. At least one child was born in the courthouse when his father was sheriff. When a separate jail was built in 1909, the jail and living quarters were remodelled for offices and jury rooms.

In 1912 an addition was built on the northwest corner of the building to accommodate the County Court. The brick and stone trim match the original building so well that it is difficult to detect the addition. This space is now part of the Treasurer's office.

The greatest alteration in the appearance of the courthouse was caused by the removal of the cupola on the southwest tower in 1952 due to its deteriorated condition. A close second would be the replacement of all the windows with metal clad sash in 1982. Other changes in exterior details were made at that time, also.

Very little of the original interior details can be seen today, as most of it has been covered with paneling, false ceilings and carpeting.

The neon sign over the front door dates from the mid-1930's and has become famous in recent years, thus providing a new chapter in the history of the courthouse.

Although altered somewhat from its original appearance, the Historic Montgomery County Courthouse remains a "handsome and imposing structure" which is recognized as an historic landmark by people from all parts of the county.

The Solomon Harkey House

Corner of Broad & Water Streets
Hillsboro, Illinois

The Museum of
The Historical Society of Montgomery County

Furnishings in the Exhibit Room range from the pioneer days of the spinning wheel to the late 19th century secretary-bookcase.

The pioneer village of Hillsboro was less than a dozen years old when Solomon Harkey built his two-story Federal style home in 1834. A plain house by today's standards, it must have seemed a mansion at a time when even the Montgomery County courthouse was a simple log structure.

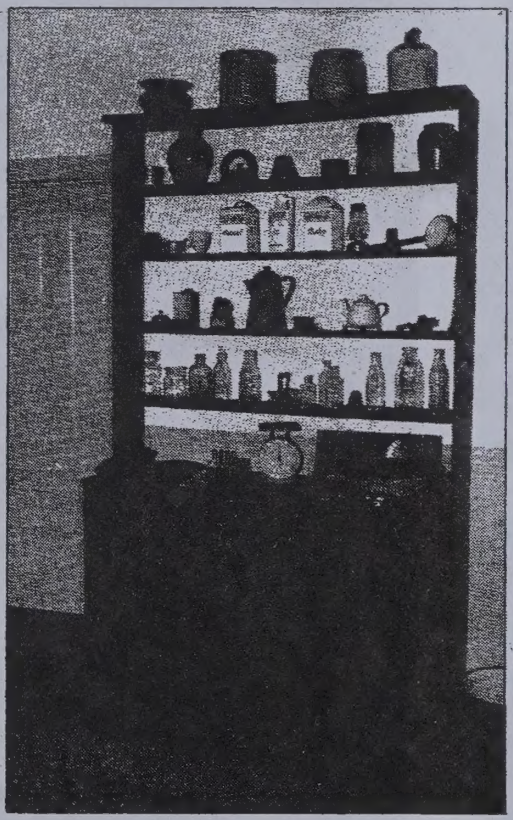
The Harkey family had come to Illinois in 1830 from North Carolina. Solomon established a tannery on the site of present day Central Park and, later, became a farmer with large land holdings. He was married to Sophia Cress in 1831, and their nine children were raised in this house. When Solomon died in 1892, his obituary stated, "When he came here the greater part of this county was a wild, unbroken wilderness. His history is the history of Hillsboro and Montgomery County."

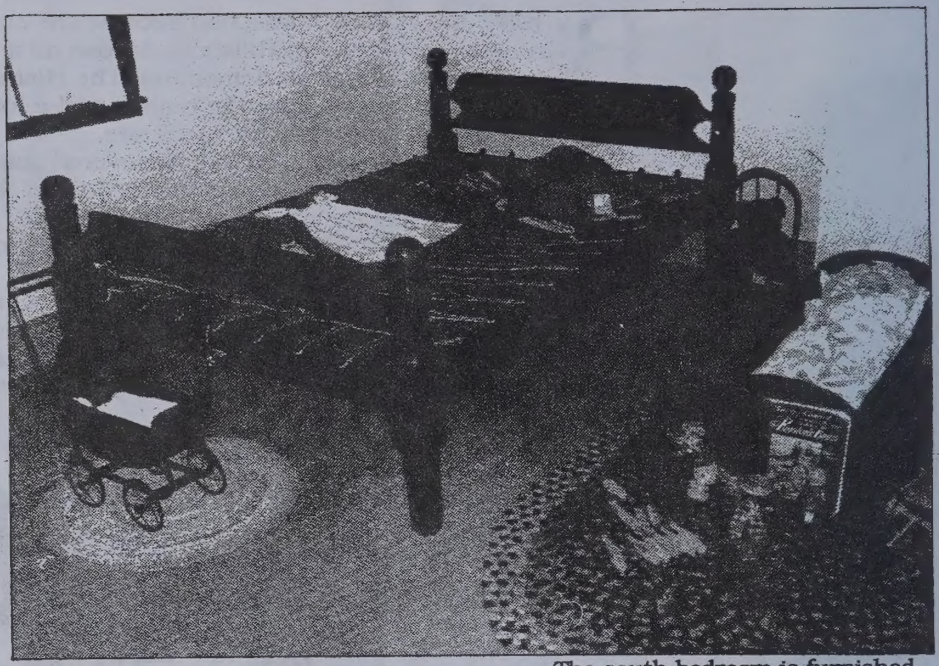
By 1968, the Harkey house had become the earliest structure remaining in Hillsboro. In use as a warehouse, it was slated for demolition. The Historical Society raised funds to relocate the house, and a lot was selected one block south of the original site.

During the moving process, it was discovered that the walls of the house were lined with bricks. Most of these were dislodged during the move, but one portion of a parlor wall has been left unplastered to show the original construction.

The house required extensive restoration, much of which was accomplished by devoted members of the Historical Society. Progress was forced to wait on fund raising, and the house was not opened to the public until 1979.

Early American ingenuity is evident in the design of the stroller/high chair and the variety of cookery utensils displayed in the "kitchen."





The south bedroom is furnished with two rope beds and a variety of children's clothing and toys.

The Harkey House has been furnished almost entirely with pieces donated by members and friends of the Society. The furnishings are typical of the middle and late 19th century and were used in Montgomery County homes prior to donation. If the Harkey family could return to their house today, we think they would feel right at home.

The Solomon Harkey House is open on special occasions and by appointment. Contact Hillsboro City Hall (217) 532-5566 or write: Historical Society of Montgomery County, c/o City of Hillsboro, Hillsboro, IL 62049.

Counties of Illinois

St. Clair and Randolph as Counties of Northwest Territory

In 1784, Virginia surrendered to the general government all claims to this territory and in 1787 "An Act for the government of the territory of the United States northwest of the Ohio River" was passed by the congress sitting under the articles of confederation. Under this ordinance General Arthur St. Clair was appointed governor of the territory, and, in 1790, organized by proclamation, the county of St. Clair, named in honor of himself.

To understand the boundaries defined in this and subsequent proclamations, and in the early legislative acts setting up counties in the Northwest Territory, Indiana Territory and the territory of Illinois, it is necessary to know the geographical location of a number of points not found on modern maps of Illinois. Some of these points are:

The "Little Michilimackinac;" the Mackinaw River flowing into the Illinois four or five miles below Pekin in Tazewell County.

"The little river above Fort Massac;" now called Massac Creek, flowing into the Ohio immediately east of the city of Metropolis, Massac County.

"Standing Stone Forks" of the Great Miami; near the present site of the village of Loramie, in the western part of Shelby County, Ohio.

"Theokiki River;" the Kankakee.

"Chicago River;" the DesPlaines.

"Cahokia;" the northwest part of town 1 north, 10 west, St. Clair County.

"Prairie du Rocher," near the center of town 5 south, 9 west, Randolph County.

"Cave Spring" and "Sink Hole Spring;" believed to be identical and located in Monroe County, section 10, town 4 south, range 10 west, about 9 miles south and 1 mile west of the city of Waterloo.

"The Great Cave on the Ohio;" section 13, town 12 south, 9 east of the 3rd principal meridian, near the present village of Cave-in-Rock, Hardin County.

"The Great Kennomic," or "Kalamik," or "Calumet;" a small stream flowing into the southern bend of Lake Michigan in Lake County, Indiana, about 18 miles east of the Illinois State line.

"Mile's Trace;" an old road or trail from Elizabethtown to Kaskaskia, a part of which led from the head waters of Lusk Creek northwesterly through Crab Orchard and across the western line of Williamson County near its northern boundary.

"Lusk Creek;" a small stream still bearing that name, emptying into the Ohio immediately above the city of Golconda, Pope County.

"Gagnic Creek;" the DeGagnia, a small creek emptying into the Mississippi in town 8 south, 5 west, on the present boundary line between Randolph and Jackson Counties.

"Bompass," "Bompast" or "Bon Pas" creek or river; a small branch of the Wabash forming the present boundary between Edwards and Wabash Counties.

"Boon's Mill;" west of the center of town 7 south, 10 east of the 3rd principal meridian near the present site of New Haven.

The outlines of the latter counties formed after the territory had been brought under the federal system of surveys, with boundaries described by township and range lines, are easily traced.

1790—St. Clair County

April 27, 1790, Governor St. Clair issued his proclamation organizing St. Clair as a county of the Northwest Territory. It had for its boundaries a direct line from the mouth of the Little Mackinaw to the mouth of the Massac Creek, thence down the Ohio to the Mississippi, up the Mississippi to the mouth of the Illinois and up the Illinois to the mouth of the Mackinaw. As thus constituted the county extended nearly two hundred fifty miles from north to south with a maximum width of about eighty miles. It embraced the territory of twenty existing counties and fractions of eleven others. But with all this wealth of territory St. Clair was a small county as compared with Knox, created by proclamation June 20 of the same year, which included about half of the State of Illinois, the whole of Indiana, that part of Ohio west of the Great Miami River, the greater part of Michigan, and a considerable part of Wisconsin as these states exist at present. Knox was organized to meet the wants of the settlements about Vincennes. The outlines of St. Clair and of the Illinois portion of Knox are found on Map No. 1.

1795—Randolph County

October 5, 1795, Randolph County was created a county of the Northwest Territory by proclamation of Governor St. Clair and included all that part of the then existing county of St. Clair lying south of a line running from the Mississippi directly east through "the cave spring a little south of the New Design" settlement to the boundary of Knox County. Assuming the "cave spring" mentioned in this proclamation to be identical with the "Sink Hole Spring" of Governor Harrison's later proclamation, this east and west line was about two miles south of the present southern boundary of St. Clair County. This division gave to Randolph about one-third of the territory of St. Clair as first established. These boundaries, shown on Map No. 2, remained unchanged until after the organization of Indiana Territory in 1800.

1801—St. Clair and Randolph as Counties of Indiana Territory

February 9, 1801, William Henry Harrison, Governor of the Territory of Indiana, issued his proclamation continuing the counties of St. Clair and Randolph as counties of Indiana Territory, but changed their boundaries and enlarged their areas. The east and west line dividing St. Clair and Randolph ran directly east from the Mississippi through the center of Sink Hole spring until it intersected a line drawn directly north from the "Great Cave on the Ohio." The point of intersection of these two lines is in section 12, town 4 south, 9 east, in White County and was made the northeast corner of Randolph County, the eastern boundary of Randolph being this line north from the cave, while the Ohio and Mississippi formed the southeastern and southwestern boundaries respectively. St. Clair, as defined by this proclamation, had for its eastern boundary, a line drawn from the northeastern corner of Randolph to the "mouth of the Great Kennomic River," and for its northern boundary, the Canada line. By the terms of this proclamation but little Illinois territory—a narrow strip along the Wabash—was left in Knox County. St. Clair contained not only the greater part of the present State of Illinois, but all of Wisconsin and a considerable part of Michigan and Minnesota as well. St. Clair and Randolph as counties of Indiana Territory are shown on Map No. 3, except the part of St. Clair extending beyond the present limits of the State.

1803—St. Clair and Randolph—Boundaries Changed

In response to sundry petitions, Governor Harrison re-adjusted by proclamation of March 25, 1803, the dividing line between Randolph and St. Clair. The dividing line thus established ran from a point on the Mississippi, about four miles further south than the old boundary, northeast to Sink Hole spring; thence in a northeasterly direction till it intersected a line running north from Cave-in-Rock. The point of intersection is in Jasper County, town six north, nine east of the third principal meridian, near the present site of Newton. The other boundaries of the two counties were unchanged and so remained until after the organization of the territory of Illinois in 1809. This change of boundary is shown on Map No. 4.

1809—St. Clair and Randolph as Counties of Illinois Territory

April 28, 1809, Nathaniel Pope, Secretary and Acting Governor of the new territory, issued his proclamation continuing St. Clair and Randolph Counties of Illinois Territory without change of boundaries, except that the eastern boundary of each county was extended to the eastern boundary of Illinois Territory, now the eastern boundary of the State. This gave to Randolph additional territory on the east and to St. Clair a triangular strip along the southern part and took from it a triangular strip from the northern part of its eastern side, and eliminated Knox County from Illinois Territory. St. Clair still extended north to the Canada line. Map No. 5 shows St. Clair and Randolph as the two original counties of Illinois Territory as re-established in 1809.

1812—Madison, Gallatin and Johnson

September 12, 1812, by proclamation of Governor Ninian Edwards, three new counties, Madison, Gallatin and Johnson, were created. Madison included all that part of the territory of Illinois lying north of the present southern boundary of Madison extended to the Wabash. Gallatin was bounded on the north by this same line, on the east by the Wabash and Ohio Rivers and on the west and southwest by the Big Muddy, Mile's trace and Lusk creek. Johnson included all the territory bounded by the Big Muddy, Mississippi and Ohio Rivers, Lusk creek and Mile's trace. This proclamation cut St. Clair down to comparatively small dimensions and made of it the smallest county of the Territory. These were the last counties created by proclamation. In this year Illinois was raised to the second grade of territorial government, and the creation of new counties and alterations of county lines devolved, thereafter, upon the Territorial Legislature. The outlines of these counties are shown on Map No. 6.

1813—Boundaries Readjusted

December 11, 1813, two acts were passed by the first Territorial Legislature readjusting the boundary lines of St. Clair, Randolph and Gallatin. The line running northeasterly from Sink Hole spring as the southeastern boundary of St. Clair was abandoned and Sink Hole spring lost its importance as a landmark. Lines of the Federal survey had been established by this time, and the line between townships three and four south (extended from the Mississippi to the third principal meridian) was made the dividing line between St. Clair and Randolph. The third principal meridian from the southern boundary of Madison to its intersection with Mile's trace was made the dividing line between Gallatin to the east and St. Clair and Randolph to the west. By these acts, those parts of St. Clair and Randolph east of the third principal meridian were added to Gallatin, nearly half of the remaining territory of Randolph was added to St. Clair and a small triangle from the extreme southwestern part of St. Clair was added to Randolph. Madison and Johnson remained unchanged. The county boundaries established by these acts are shown on Map No. 7.

1814-1815—Edwards and White

November 20, 1814, the Territorial Legislature passed "An Act for the division of Gallatin County," which act divided Madison County as well, and from the northern part of Gallatin and the part of Madison lying east of the third principal meridian, made Edwards the sixth county of the territory. December 9, 1815, Gallatin was further reduced by the creation of White including besides the present area of White all the territory directly west of it to the third principal meridian. These two counties are shown on Map No. 8.

1816—Monroe, Jackson, Pope and Crawford

January 6, 1816, Monroe County was created, Jackson and Pope January 10, and Crawford December 31, of the same year. Monroe, from St. Clair and Randolph, was given substantially its present boundaries except that the eastern boundary across town three has since been carried east to the Kaskaskia River. Several changes have since been made in the northeastern and southeastern boundaries of Monroe, but all of a trifling character. Jackson, from Randolph, included, besides its present area, the southern part of the present county of Perry. Pope, from Johnson and Gallatin, contained besides its present area, portions of the present counties of Massac, Johnson and Hardin. December 8 of the same year the northeastern boundary of Pope was carried east six miles, that is to a line running from the "Rock and Cave" (Cave-in-Rock) on the Ohio to the southwest corner of town ten south, eight east. Crawford included all that part of the territory lying east of the third principal meridian, and north of the line dividing towns three and four north. That part of Johnson between Mile's trace and the third principal meridian was attached temporarily, the eastern part to Gallatin and the western part to Jackson. These changes of county lines are shown on Map No. 9.

1817—Bond

January 4, 1817, Bond County was created, a parallelogram twenty-four miles wide from east to west and about 600 miles in length, reaching from a line six miles south of its present southern boundary to Lake Superior on the north. The Illinois part of this county is shown on Map No. 10.

1818—Franklin, Union and Washington

By acts of January 2, 1818, three new counties were created, the last counties of territorial origin. Franklin included, besides its present area, all of Williamson. Union was given its present territory to which was temporarily attached the country lying south of it and between the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers. Union was the first county of Illinois to which was given its present boundaries. Washington, formed from the eastern part of St. Clair, included besides its present area, the greatest part of the present county of Clinton. Map No. 11 shows the counties of Illinois as they existed at the close of the territorial period. The admission of Illinois as a State in 1818 worked no change in county boundaries except that Madison, Bond and Crawford no longer extended north to the Canada line, but had for their northern limit the present northern boundary of the State.

1819—Alexander, Clark, Jefferson and Wayne

The second session of the first General Assembly of the State created four new counties, Alexander, Clark, Jefferson and Wayne. Alexander (March 4) from unorganized territory south of Union, included besides its present area, a portion of Pulaski, Clark, (March 22) from the north part of Crawford, extended from the third principal meridian to the Indiana state line and from the present southern county boundary to the Wisconsin state line on the north. Jefferson, (March 26) from Edwards and White, included besides its present area, the greater part of Marion. Wayne, (March 26) from Edwards, contained its present territory together with the southern part of Clay and the western part of Richland. Map No. 12 shows the county boundaries as they existed at the close of the first General Assembly of the State.

1821—Lawrence, Greene, Sangamon, Pike, Hamilton and Montgomery

In 1821, six new counties were created. Lawrence, (January 16) from Crawford and Edwards, included, besides its present area, the greater part of Richland just west of it. Greene, (January 20) from Madison, included, besides its present area, that of Jersey. The unorganized territory to the north and east of Greene was temporarily attached to it. Sangamon, (January 30) from Madison and Bond, included, besides its present area, all of the existing counties of Cass, Menard, Logan, Mason, Tazewell and parts of Christian, Macon, McLean, Woodford, Marshall and Putnam. Pike, (January 31) from Madison, Bond and Clark, included all that part of the State north and west of the Illinois and north of the Kankakee. Hamilton, (February 8) from the western part of White, was given its present boundaries and White was reduced to its existing limits. Montgomery, (February 12) from Bond and Madison, extended north from its present southern boundary to the county of Sangamon and included the southwestern part of Christian County. Town ten and part of town nine north, one west have since been added to Montgomery. Vandalia having been fixed upon as the future capital of the State, it was considered necessary to surround it with a county of suitable dimensions, and Fayette, (February 14) was created from Bond, Jefferson, Wayne, Crawford and Clark. It had for its southern boundary the line dividing townships two and three north, and extended north 180 miles, to the Illinois River. It was 42 miles wide for a distance of 60 miles and 36 miles wide the remaining 120 miles of its extent. It contained nearly 7,000 square miles of territory and included within its boundaries, in whole or in part, 18 counties as they exist today. A strict construction of the act creating Fayette would have made its entire western boundary the line between ranges one and two west of the third principal meridian, and its northern boundary the Wisconsin state line; thus taking, south of the Illinois River, one range of townships from the east side of Sangamon (formed January 30) and north of the river, cutting in two, Pike (formed January 31), and making its area about 11,000 square miles. It is probable, however, that the word "unorganized" should be read into the first section of the act, making it read, "all that tract of unorganized country lying north," etc. Subsequent acts seem to agree with this construction. The outlines of these counties are shown on Map No. 13.

1823—Edgar, Marion, Fulton and Morgan

In 1823, four new counties were created. Edgar, (January 3) from Clark, was given its present boundaries and unorganized territory, north and west of it was temporarily attached to it. Marion, (January 24) from Fayette and Jefferson, was given its present boundaries. Fulton, (January 28) from Pike, included besides its present area, parts of Knox, Peoria and Schuyler, and the unorganized territory to the north and east was temporarily attached.

Morgan, (January 31) from Sangamon and the unorganized territory north of Greene, included the present counties of Morgan, Scott and Cass. The boundaries of Pike were re-defined, restricting it to the territory between the Illinois and Mississippi south of a line drawn west from the present site of Beardstown. It contained the present counties of Pike and Calhoun, a small part of Schuyler and the greatest part of Brown and Adams. The unorganized territory west of Fulton and north of Pike was temporarily attached to Pike. For these changes of boundary see Map No. 14.

1824—Clay, Clinton and Wabash

In 1824, three new counties were created. Clay, (December 23) from Fayette, Crawford and Wayne, included besides its present area, parts of Jasper and Richland. Clinton and Wabash, (December 27) the former from Washington, Fayette and Bond, and the latter, from Edwards, were given their present boundaries. These acts also reduced Edwards, Wayne and Washington to their present limits. These changes of boundaries are shown on Map No. 15.

1825—Ten New Counties

In 1825, ten new counties were added, all of them in the territory north and west of the Illinois River. Calhoun (January 10), Adams, Hancock, Henry, Knox, Mercer, Putnam, Schuyler and Warren by a single act of January 13, and Peoria by a separate act of the same date. These acts gave to Adams, Hancock and Calhoun their present boundaries, included with Warren the present county of Henderson, gave to Mercer besides its present area, the part of Rock Island to the north of it, to Knox an area smaller by four townships than it now has, included with Schuyler the present county of Brown, and gave to Putnam all the unorganized country north of the Illinois and Kankakee Rivers. Pike, Peoria and Fulton were reduced to their present limits. Hancock was attached to Adams, and Mercer to Schuyler, until the organization of these attached counties could be completed. The northern line of Sangamon was re-defined and the detached portion temporarily attached to Fulton. A considerable tract of the unorganized territory east of Greene was added to Madison. Henry County extended south from the Wisconsin line to a line six miles south of its present boundary and from the fourth principal meridian east to the line dividing ranges four and five. In defining Henry County, the Mississippi was not named as part of its western boundary, and as described in the act it extended beyond the Mississippi and included a considerable part of Iowa Territory. The eastern boundary of Monroe County was carried east so as to include township three south, eight west, from St. Clair, and in 1827 was further extended to the Kaskaskia River, adding to it the fractional township three south, seven west from St. Clair, thus enlarging Monroe and reducing St. Clair to existing limits. The changes described are shown on Map No. 16.

1826—Vermilion and McDonough

In 1826, but two new counties were established: Vermilion, (January 18) from unorganized territory attached to Edgar; and McDonough, with its present boundaries, from territory attached to Schuyler. These two counties are shown on Map No. 17. The unorganized territory north and west of Vermilion was temporarily attached to that county. Mercer and Warren were attached to Peoria, and McDonough to Schuyler, until their respective organizations could be completed.

1827—Shelby, Perry, Tazewell and JoDaviess

In 1827, four new counties were established: Shelby, (January 23) from Fayette, including its present territory and portions of Moultrie and Christian; Perry, (January 29) from Randolph and Jackson, was given its present boundaries; Tazewell, (January 31) from the unorganized territory east of the Illinois, included the present counties of Tazewell and Woodford and parts of McLean, Livingston, DeWitt, Logan and Mason; JoDaviess, (February 17) from Mercer, Henry and Putnam, included a large area north of the "military tract" and west of the range line between ten and eleven east of the fourth principal meridian, including besides the present county of JoDaviess, four entire counties and parts of five others. The country north of Shelby (formerly a part of Fayette) was temporarily attached to Shelby, that still further north to Tazewell and that north of Tazewell to Peoria. Mercer was reduced to its present limits; but, not having completed its organization, remained, with Warren, attached to Peoria. A small tract from St. Clair, lying west of the Kaskaskia was added to Monroe January 9. The county boundaries at the close of 1827 are shown on Map No. 18.

1829-1831—Nine New Counties

During this period nine new counties were created: Two in 1829, two in 1830 and five in 1831. In 1829, Macoupin, (January 17) from Madison and unorganized territory attached to Greene, was given its present boundaries, and Macon, (January 19) from territory attached to Shelby, included the present area of Macon, together with portions of Piatt, Moultrie and DeWitt.

In 1830, Coles, (December 25) from the western part of Clark and the unorganized territory north of it, included the present counties of Douglas, Coles and Cumberland. McLean, (December 25) from the eastern part of Tazewell and territory east of it, included all its present area with parts of Piatt, DeWitt, Logan, Woodford and Livingston.

In 1831, Cook, (January 15) from Putnam, contained, besides its present territory, all of Lake and DuPage and parts of McHenry and Will. LaSalle, (January 15) from Putnam and unorganized territory south of the Illinois, contained, besides its present area, all of Grundy and parts of Livingston, Kendall and Marshall. Rock Island, (February 9) from JoDaviess, was given its present boundaries. Effingham and Jasper, (February 15) were given their present boundaries, the first from Fayette and Crawford, and the latter from Crawford and Clay. The boundaries of Henry, Putnam and Knox were altered, but neither county reduced to its present lines, Mercer was attached to Warren until fully organized; Henry was attached to Knox, and the unorganized country north of LaSalle was attached to that county. Towns twelve and thirteen north, five east of the fourth principal meridian were included by acts of the same date in both Knox and Henry Counties. The section of the act including this tract in Henry was repeated March 4, 1837. The county boundaries at the close of this period are shown on Map No. 19.

1833-1835—Champaign and Iroquois

In 1833, Champaign, (February 20) from Vermilion and unorganized territory lying west of it, was given its present boundaries. Iroquois, (February 26) from unorganized territory north of Vermilion, included, besides its present area, nearly all of Kankakee and nearly half of Will. By these two acts Vermilion was reduced to its present limits. The boundary between Franklin and Perry was re-adjusted, (March 1, 1935) making Little Muddy River the dividing line between the counties. February 12, 1835, the line dividing Sangamon and Morgan was re-defined and provision made for its survey. In 1833, (February 26) Vermilion was enlarged to its present limits by the addition of unorganized territory on the north. These changes are shown on Map No. 20.

1836—Six New Counties

In 1836, six new counties were formed: Will, (January 12) from Cook and Iroquois, included, besides its present area, the part of Kankakee County lying north of the Kankakee River. Kane, McHenry, Ogle, Whiteside and Winnebago were created by a single act, (January 16). Kane included the present counties of Kane and DeKalb and part of Kendall; McHenry, besides its present area, included Lake; Winnebago included Boone and part of Stephenson; Ogle consisted of the present counties of Ogle and Lee, while Whiteside was given its present boundaries. The boundary of JoDaviess was re-defined and the area greatly reduced by the act of January 16. Winnebago, Ogle and Whiteside were attached to JoDaviess, and Kane to LaSalle, until their several organizations could be completed. See Map No. 21.

1837-1839—Twenty-one New Counties

The changes made in the county boundaries in 1837 and 1839 are shown on Map No. 22.

In 1837, six new counties were created: Livingston, (February 27) from LaSalle, McLean and unorganized territory to the east; Bureau, (February 28) from Putnam; Cass, (March 3) from Morgan; Boone, (March 4) from Winnebago; DeKalb, (March 4) from Kane; and Stephenson, (March 4) from Winnebago and JoDaviess. All of these were given their present boundaries except Cass, whose southern boundary was fixed three miles further north than now, and Winnebago was reduced to its present limits.

In 1839, fifteen new counties were formed, a greater number than in any other year of the State's history, and equal to all that have since been created. Marshall, (January 9) from Putnam, was given its present boundaries, except that two townships (29 and 30 north, one east; from LaSalle) were attached in 1843; Brown, (February 1) from Schuyler; DuPage, (February 9) from Cook; and Dane renamed Christian, (February 15 and 26) from Shelby, Montgomery and Sangamon were given their present boundaries. Logan, (February 15) from Sangamon, was smaller than at present, three whole and three fractional townships from Tazewell, (1840) and a fractional township from DeWitt, (1845) having since been added to the north. Menard, (February 15) from Sangamon, included, besides its present area, about half of Mason County. Scott, (February 16) from Morgan; Carroll, (February 22) from JoDaviess; Lee, (February 27) from Ogle; Jersey, (February 28) from Greene, and Williamson, (February 28) from Franklin, were given their present boundaries. DeWitt, (March 1) from McLean and Macon, included, besides its present area; the northern part of Piatt and a small tract since attached to Logan. Lake, (March 1) from McHenry, was given its present boundaries. Hardin, (March 2) from Pope contained but about one-half of its present area; and Stark, (March 2) from Knox and Putnam, was given its present boundaries. These several acts reduced the following ten counties to their present limits: Cook, Franklin, Greene, JoDaviess, Knox, McHenry, Montgomery, Putnam, Sangamon and Schuyler. The western boundary of Hardin was changed January 8, 1840, from the Grand Pierre Creek to the present line between Pope and Hardin. The name of Dane County was changed to Christian February 1, 1840.

1841-1859—Fifteen New Counties

Since 1839 fifteen new counties have been created, making the total number at the present time 102. No new counties have been created since 1859 and no important changes made in county boundaries since that year. Map No. 23 shows the county boundaries as they exist at the present time with the date of the formation of each.

In 1841, Henderson, (January 20) from Warren; Mason from Tazewell and Menard; Piatt, (January 27) from DeWitt and Macon; Grundy, (February 17) from LaSalle; Kendall, (February 19) from LaSalle and Kane; Richland, (February 24) from Clay and Lawrence; and Woodford, (February 27) from McLean and Tazewell, were given their present boundaries, and the following eight counties, Clay, Kane, LaSalle, Lawrence, McLean, Menard, Tazewell and Warren, were reduced to their present limits.

In 1843, four new counties were created: Massac, (February 8) from Pope and Johnson; Moultrie, (February 16) from Shelby and Macon; Cumberland, (March 2) from Coles; and Pulaski, (March 3) from Johnson and Alexander, were given their present boundaries. Pope, Johnson, Shelby, Macon and Alexander were reduced to their present limits.

In 1845, (February 16) part of Morgan was added to Cass; (February 26) part of DeWitt was added to Logan; the line between Fulton and Peoria was re-adjusted (February 28), but no new counties were created.

In 1847, Saline, (February 25) from Gallatin, was given its present boundaries and (February 20) territory was added to Hardin. By these two acts, Gallatin was reduced to its present limits, and with the act of January 8, 1840, changing the eastern boundary of Pope, Hardin was given its present boundaries.

In 1856, Kankakee, (February 11) from Iroquois and Will, was given its present boundaries except that two townships (30 and 21 north, 9 east), were added to the western part, February 14, 1885. The act creating Kankakee reduced Iroquois and Will to their present limits.

In 1859, Douglas, (February 8) from Coles, was given its present boundaries and Coles reduced to its present limits; Ford, (February 17) the latest county to be created was formed from unorganized territory which had been attached to Vermilion since the creation of that county in 1826. Ford was given its present boundaries and Vermilion reduced to its present limits.

During this period and in preceding years as well, a number of laws affecting county boundaries were enacted which have not been referred to in this article for the reason that the changes made by these acts have been so unimportant that they could not well be shown on maps so small as those following this sketch and intending to illustrate it. Some of the lines on the maps are not beyond possible controversy. The acts establishing the lines are not always clear and are sometimes plainly contradictory. When Crawford was established in 1816, its western boundary was described as "the meridian"; and it has been assumed that the third principal meridian was meant. The act creating Fayette in 1821 strictly construed, extended its northern limit to the Wisconsin line; but subsequent acts indicate that no territory north of the Illinois River was at any time considered a part of Fayette. The act of 1825 adding territory to Madison is contradictory in its terms, and a subsequent act, reciting how this act shall not be construed, fails to clarify the original law. The provisions by which unorganized territory was "attached" to organized counties vary greatly in terms, and possibly in meaning. Such territory is "temporarily attached" by one act, "attached for county purposes" by another, for "judicial purposes" by a third, and still other forms are used. One act provides that property in the attached territory shall not be taxed for the erection of public buildings in the county to which the territory is attached, and another that "the inhabitants residing therein shall enjoy all the rights and privileges belonging to the citizens of the county" to which the territory is attached. The act creating Fulton in 1823 gave to it definite boundaries as shown on Map No. 14, and declared that this territory "shall constitute a separate county;" but further declared that all the county east of the fourth meridian and north of the Illinois, formerly a part of Pike, "shall be attached to and be a part of said county until otherwise disposed of by the General Assembly", and it remained so attached until disposed of in 1825 by the creation of Peoria and Putnam Counties. So it seems an open question whether the boundaries of Fulton for 1823 should be represented as on Map No. 14, or whether the county should be shown as reaching east from the fourth meridian to Lake Michigan, and north from the Illinois River to the Wisconsin line. Many such problems present themselves in considering these maps. But reference is made in each case to the act establishing the county and the interested reader may readily consult the creative act and reconstruct the map to correspond with his interpretation of its meaning. The purpose of the maps and of the descriptive matter accompanying them is to give to those interested in this branch of the State's history, a reasonably correct idea of the evolution of the counties of Illinois. It is believed that the maps are substantially correct and that few material errors will be found in the text explaining them.

Besides the 102 counties above enumerated, 13 other counties with names assigned and boundaries fixed, have been authorized by legislative enactment but failed to complete their organizations under the several enabling acts creating them: The counties of Coffee and Michigan in 1837; Allen and Okaw in 1841; Audubon, Benton, Marquette and Milton in 1843; Highland in 1847; Oregon in 1851; Harrison in 1855; Holmes in 1857 and Lincoln in 1867. Coffee, (March 1, 1837) was identical in boundaries with Stark, except that it contained one more township, now the southeastern township of Henry. Michigan, (March 2, 1837) contained, besides the present territory of DuPage County, that part of Cook lying north of DuPage and south of Lake and McHenry. Audubon, (February 6, 1843) consisted of a rectangular tract, south of Christian County, running 12 miles south and 15 miles west, from the southeast corner of Christian and included parts of the present counties of Shelby, Fayette and Montgomery. Okaw, (February 4, 1841) was almost identical in area with the present county of Moultrie, but extended three miles farther west, and the zig-zag line forming its southwestern boundary was somewhat different. Marquette, (February 11, 1843) from Adams County, included townships one and two north and one, two and three south, ranges five and six west of the fourth principal meridian, with six sections off the east side of township one south, seven west. Highland, (February 27, 1847) included all the territory assigned to Marquette in 1843, together with the eastern third of townships one and two north, seven west and six additional sections from township one south, seven west. Allen, Benton and Oregon included much territory in common from the southwestern part of Sangamon, to the southeastern part of Morgan and the northern part of Macoupin. Allen, (February 27, 1841) contained townships twelve, thirteen, fourteen and south half of fifteen north, ranges seven and eight west; twelve and thirteen and part of fourteen, range nine; and the western third of twelve north, six west. It took nearly an equal amount of territory from each of the three counties of Macoupin, Sangamon and Morgan. Benton, (March 4, 1843) extended farther west and south than Allen, but not so far east; its eastern boundary being the line between Morgan and Sangamon Counties. Compared with Allen it took more territory from Morgan, less from Macoupin, a considerable tract from the northeastern part of Greene and none from Sangamon, but gained nearly enough from Morgan and Greene to balance the loss from Sangamon. Oregon, (February 15, 1851) was very similar in outline to the old county of Allen, formed ten years earlier, but extended farther east, taking in township thirteen north, six west, and the eastern two-thirds of twelve north, six west, and its northern boundary extended a mile farther north than that of Allen.

Another group of proposed counties in the eastern part of the State also covered much territory in common. Milton, (February 21, 1843) from the southern part of Vermilion County, included nearly one-third of the area of that county. Harrison, (February 14, 1855) mostly from the eastern part of McLean, included also portions of the present counties of Ford and Champaign. Holmes, (January 15, 1837) similar in shape to the present county of Ford, but larger in area, reaching twelve miles farther north, six miles farther south and three miles farther east along its southern boundary, contained, besides the present area of Ford, portions of Kankakee, Champaign and Vermilion. Lincoln, (March 9, 1867) occupied a strip from two to eight miles wide and thirty-six miles in length, along the eastern side of Champaign, and a somewhat wider strip of the same length from the western side of Vermilion. This included a part of the territory assigned to Milton in 1843 and to Holmes in 1857, as Holmes had included a part of Harrison formed in 1855.

1790—ST. CLAIR AND KNOX

As Counties of the Northwest Territory

April 27—County of St. Clair set off as follows: Beginning at the mouth of the Little Michilmacinack River, running thence southerly in a direct line to the mouth of the little river above Fort Massac, on the Ohio River; thence with the Ohio to its junction with the Mississippi; thence with the Mississippi to the mouth of the Illinois River; and so up the Illinois River to the place of beginning with all the adjacent islands of the said Illinois and Mississippi Rivers. St. Clair County divided into three judicial districts, viz.: Cahokia, Prairie du Rocher and Kaskaskia; in each of which sessions of the several courts should be held during the year in the same manner as if each district represented a distinct county.

[Territorial Records of the Northwest Territory, St. Clair Papers, volume 2, page 165.]

June 20—A county named Knox was laid off with the following boundaries: Beginning at the Standing Stone Forks of the Great Miami River and down the said river to the confluence with the Ohio River; thence with the Ohio River to the small stream or rivulet above Fort Massac; thence with the eastern line of St. Clair County to the mouth of the Little Michilmacinack; thence up the Illinois River to the forks or confluence of the Theokiki [Kankakee] and Chicago [DesPlaines]; thence by a line to be drawn due north to the boundary of the Territory of the United States, and so far easterly upon said boundary line as that a due south line may be drawn to the place of beginning.

1795—RANDOLPH

As a County of the Northwest Territory

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas, the division of the county of St. Clair into districts has not been found to give that ease and facility to the administration of justice which was expected, and the great extent of the county would render it almost impracticable were the courts to be held at one place only, it has, therefore, become necessary that it should be divided and a new county erected. Now, know ye, that by virtue of the power vested in me by the United States, I have ordered and ordained, and by these presents, do order and ordain, that all and singular, the lands lying and being within the following boundaries, viz.: Beginning at the Cave spring, a little south of the New Design, and running thence due east to the line of the county of Knox, and thence south with that line to the Ohio River thence with the Ohio to the Mississippi, thence with the Mississippi to the parallel of the said Cave spring, and thence to the place of beginning, shall be a county named and hereafter to be known and called by the name of RANDOLPH, which said county of Randolph shall have and enjoy, all and singular, jurisdiction and rights, liberties and immunities whatsoever to a county appertaining, and which any county that now is or hereafter may be erected and laid out, shall or ought to enjoy comformably to the ordinance of Congress for the government of the Territory northwest of the river Ohio, bearing date the 15th day of July, 1787.

In testimony, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Territory to be affixed, at Cahokia, in the county of St. Clair, the 5th day of October, in the year of our Lord 1795, and of the Independence of the United States the twentieth.

1801—ST. CLAIR AND RANDOLPH

As counties of the Territory of Indiana

February 3—The Governor issued a proclamation altering the boundary lines of the counties of Knox and Randolph and St. Clair as follows, to-wit: The boundary of the county of RANDOLPH shall begin on the Ohio River at a place called the Great Cave below the Saline Lick, thence by a direct north line until it intersects an east and west line running from the Mississippi through the Sink Hole spring, thence along the said line to the Mississippi, thence down the Mississippi to the mouth of the Ohio, and up the Ohio to the place of beginning.

The county of ST. CLAIR shall be bounded on the south by the before mentioned east and west line running from the Mississippi through the Sink Hole spring to the intersection of the north line running from the Great Cave aforesaid, thence from the said point of intersection by a direct line to the mouth of the great Kennoumic River falling into the southerly bend of Lake Michigan, thence by a direct northeast line to the division line between the Indiana and Northwestern Territories, thence along the said line to the Territorial boundary of the United States and along the said boundary line to the intersection thereof with the Mississippi, and down the Mississippi to the place of beginning.

1803 — ST. CLAIR AND RANDOLPH

As counties of Indiana Territory; boundaries changed

JANUARY 24, 1803: Alteration by proclamation forming Wayne County, Indiana Territory, effective upon admission of Ohio to the Union.

BOUNDARY CHANGE: By the proclamation of January 24, 1803, that part of St. Clair County lying north and east of a line beginning at "the Southerly Extreame of Lake Michigan," running thence due west until it "would intersect a North and South line passing through the most westerly bend of the said Lake, and thence north along the last mentioned line to the Territorial Boundary of the United States," was transferred to Wayne County. Territorial Executive Journal, 115.

MARCH 25, 1803: Alteration by proclamation extending Randolph County, effective May 1, 1803.

BOUNDARY CHANGE: "The line seperating the Counties of Randolph and St. Clair shall begin on the Mississippi River four miles and thirty two Chains south of the point, where the present division line intersects the Mississippi Bottom, thence by a direct line to the Sink hole Springs, thence by a line north sixty degrees East until it intersects a north line running from the great Cave on the Ohio River." 1809—ST. CLAIR AND RANDOLPH

As counties of Illinois Territory

A PROCLAMATION BY NATHANIEL POPE, SECRETARY OF THE TERRITORY OF ILLINOIS AND EXERCISING THE GOVERNMENT THEREOF

By virtue of the powers vested in the governor for the prevention of crimes and injuries and for the execution of process civil and criminal within the Territory; I have thought proper to, and by this proclamation do, divide the Illinois Territory into two counties to be called the COUNTY OF ST. CLAIR and the COUNTY OF RANDOLPH. The county of Randolph shall include all that part of the Illinois Territory lying south of the line dividing the counties of Randolph and St. Clair as it existed under the government of the Indiana Territory on the last day of February in the year one thousand eight hundred and nine. And the county of St. Clair shall include all that part of the Territory which lies north of said line.

Done at Kaskaskia, the 28th day of April, 1809, and of the Independence of the United States the thirty-third.

NAT. POPE.

1812—MADISON, GALLATIN AND JOHNSON

As counties of Illinois Territory

A Proclamation

By virtue of the powers vested in the Governor of the Territory, I do hereby lay off a county or district to be called the County of Madison to be included within the following bounds, viz.: To begin on the Mississippi, to run with the second township line above Cahokia east until it strikes the dividing line between the Illinois and Indiana Territories; thence with said dividing line to the line of Upper Canada; thence with said line to the Mississippi; thence down the Mississippi to the beginning. I do appoint the house of Thomas Kirkpatrick to be the seat of justice of said county.

I do also lay off a county or district to be called the County of Gallatin, to be bounded as follows, viz.: To begin at the mouth of Lusk's Creek on the Ohio, running up with said creek to Miles' Trace; thence along said trace to Big Muddy; thence up Big Muddy to its source; thence north to the line of St. Clair County; thence with said line to the Wabash; thence down the Wabash and Ohio, to the beginning. And I do appoint Shawnee Town to be the seat of justice of Gallatin County.

And I do lay off a county or district to be called Johnson County to be bounded as follows, viz.: To begin at the mouth of Lusk's Creek on the Ohio; thence with the line of Gallatin County to Big Muddy; thence down Big Muddy and the Mississippi to the mouth of the Ohio, and up the Ohio to the beginning. And I do appoint the house of John Bradshaw to be the seat of justice for Johnson County.

Done at Kaskaskia the 14th day of September, 1812, and the Independence of the United States the thirty-seventh.

By the Governor: Ninian Edwards.

Nat. Pope, Secretary.

1814-1815—EDWARDS AND WHITE

As counties of Illinois Territory

An Act for the Division of Gallatin County

Be it enacted by the Legislative Council and House of Representatives of the Illinois Territory and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same. That all that tract of country within the following boundaries (to-wit): Beginning at the mouth of Bompast [Bon Pas] creek on the big Wabash and running thence due west to the meridian line which runs due north from the mouth of the Ohio River; thence with said meridian line and due north until it strikes the line of Upper Canada; thence with the line of Upper Canada to the line that separates this Territory from the Indiana Territory; and thence with said dividing line to the beginning shall constitute a separate county, to be called Edwards.

Approved this 28th day of November, 1814.

[Territorial Laws, 1814, Pope's Digest, p. 85.]

An Act for the Division of Gallatin County

Be it enacted by the Legislative Council and House of Representatives of the Illinois Territory, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, That all that tract of country within the following boundaries (to-wit): Beginning at the mouth of the Little Wabash, running up the same to Joseph Boon's mill; thence due west to the third principal meridian; thence with Edwards County line east to the Big Wabash, thence down the same to the beginning shall constitute a separate county, to be called White.

Approved this 9th day of December, 1815.

1816—JACKSON, POPE, MONROE AND CRAWFORD

As counties of Illinois Territory

MONROE. Jan. 6—Beginning on the Mississippi River where the base line, which is about three-fourths of a mile below Judge Brigg's present residence, strikes the said river; thence with the base line until it strikes the first township line therefrom; thence southeast to the southeast corner of township two south, range nine west; thence south to the southeast corner of township four north, range nine west; thence southwestwardly to the Mississippi, so as to include Alexander McNabb's farm, and thence up the Mississippi to the beginning shall constitute a separate county, to be called MONROE.

[Territorial Laws, 1815-16, p. 25.]

JACKSON. Jan. 10—Beginning at the mouth of the Big Muddy River and running up the same to the township line between ten and eleven; thence east with said line to the principal meridian line running from the mouth of the Ohio River; thence north with the meridian line thirty miles; thence west twenty-four miles to the corner of range between four and five west of the principal meridian line; thence south six miles to the township corner between six and seven; thence to the headwaters of the creek called Gagnic and down it to the Mississippi; thence down the Mississippi to the beginning shall be a separate and distinct county and called and be known by the name of JACKSON.

[Territorial Laws, 1815-16, p. 62.]

POPE. Jan. 10—Beginning on the Ohio River where the meridian line leaves it that divides ranges number three and four east of the third principal meridian; thence north to the township line dividing townships ten and eleven south; thence east eighteen miles; thence to that point on the Ohio where the line dividing ranges eight and nine leaves it; thence down the same to the beginning shall constitute a separate county, to be called and known by the name of POPE.

[Territorial Laws, 1815-16, p. 66.]*

CRAWFORD. Dec. 31—Beginning at the mouth of the Embarras and running with said river to the intersection of the line dividing townships number three and four north, of range eleven west, of the second principal meridian; thence west with said township line to the meridian and due north until it strikes the line of Upper Canada; thence to the line that separates this territory from the state of Indiana; and thence south with said dividing line to the beginning shall constitute a separate county, to be called CRAWFORD.

[Territorial Laws, 1816-17, p. 21.]

*NOTE—The northeastern line of Pope County was changed by act of Dec. 26, 1816, and established as follows: "Beginning at Rock and Cave [Cave-in-Rock] on the Ohio River; thence a straight line to the corner of townships number ten and eleven south and ranges number seven and eight, east of the third principal meridian."

LAWRENCE. Jan. 16—Beginning on the Great Wabash seven miles north of the base line, thence west to the Wayne County line; thence north two miles north of town four; thence east to the Wabash; thence with that river to the place of beginning.
[Laws 1821, p. 16.]

GREENE. Jan. 20—Beginning at the southeast corner town seven north, ten west of third principal meridian; thence north between ranges nine and ten to the northwest corner of town twelve north; thence west along the line between towns twelve and thirteen to the middle of the Illinois; thence down said river to the Mississippi; thence down the middle of the river to a point parallel with the southwest corner of town six north, ten west; thence north with the range line between ten and eleven, to the township line between six and seven; thence east with said township line to the place of beginning.
[Laws 1821, p. 26.]

SANGAMON. Jan. 30—From the northeast corner of town twelve north, one west of third principal meridian, north with that meridian to the Illinois River; down the middle of the river to the mouth of Balance or Negro (Indian) creek; up said creek to its head; thence through the middle of the prairie dividing the waters of the Sangamon and Mauvaise Terre to the northwest corner of town twelve north, seven west of the third principal meridian; thence east along the north line of town twelve to the place of beginning.
[Laws 1821, p. 45.]

PIKE. Jan. 31—Up the middle of the Illinois River from its mouth to the fork; up the south fork (Kankakee) to the Indiana state line; north with the state line to the north boundary of the State; west with said state line to the west boundary of the State; thence with said boundary to the place of beginning.
[Laws 1821, p. 59.]

HAMILTON. Feb. 8—South from the southern line of Wayne County, on the line dividing ranges seven and eight east, to Gallatin County; thence west eighteen miles to Franklin; thence north to the Wayne County line; thence east to the beginning.
[Laws 1821, p. 113.]

MONTGOMERY. Feb. 12—West from the southeast corner of section twenty-four, town seven north, two west, to the southwest corner section nineteen, town seven north, four west; thence south to southeast corner of town seven north, five west; thence west to southwest corner of said township; thence north to northwest corner of town twelve north, five west; thence east to northeast corner of town twelve north, two west; thence south to the beginning.
[Laws 1821, p. 142.]

FAYETTE. Feb. 14—All that tract of country lying north of a line running east from the southwest corner of town three north, one west, to the southeast corner of town three north, six east of the third principal meridian.*
[Laws 1821, p. 164.]

*NOTE—A strict construction of this act would make the entire western boundary of Fayette County the line between ranges one and two west, and extend its northern boundary to the Wisconsin line, thus taking one range of townships from the east side of Sangamon (formed Jan. 30) and cutting Pike (formed Jan. 31) in two. It is probable that the word "unorganized" should be read into the act so as to make it read "all that tract of unorganized country lying north," etc. Subsequent acts seem to justify this theory.

NAMES OF COUNTIES

Six counties of Illinois, WASHINGTON, JEFFERSON, MADISON, MONROE, ADAMS, and JACKSON, were named for Presidents of the United States; ADAMS for John Quincy Adams, sixth President, and not for John Adams, second President, as is sometimes stated.

Four counties, BOND, COLES, EDWARDS, and FORD, were named, respectively for the first, second, third and seventh Governors of Illinois. Bond received its name the year before the election of the first Governor of the State.

Sixteen counties were named for other citizens of the State, prominent in different walks of life.

ALEXANDER, for William M. Alexander, an early settler of the county bearing his name and Senator in the second and third General Assemblies of the State.

COOK, for Daniel P. Cook, a pioneer lawyer, first Attorney General of the State and Representative in Congress from 1819 to 1827.

DOUGLAS, for Stephen A. Douglas, an eminent lawyer, brilliant political orator, Secretary of State (1840), Representative in Congress (1843-1847), United States Senator (1847-1861), and candidate for the Presidency in 1860.

EDGAR, for John Edgar, a pioneer merchant, politician and land speculator.

KANE, for Elias Kent Kane, a pioneer lawyer, Territorial judge, prominent member of the Constitutional Convention of 1818, first Secretary of State of Illinois, and later United States Senator.

LOGAN, for Dr. John Logan, a pioneer physician, father of General John A. Logan.

MCHENRY, for William McHenry, a pioneer of White County, soldier of the War of 1812 and the Black Hawk war, Representative in the first, fourth, fifth and ninth General Assemblies, and Senator in the sixth.

MCLEAN, for John McLean, a pioneer lawyer, Territorial judge, first Representative in Congress from Illinois (1818), and United States Senator (1824-1825).

MENARD, for Pierre Menard, a pioneer Indian trader, Colonel of Territorial militia, and first Lieutenant Governor of the State.

OGLE, for Joseph Ogle, pioneer politician and Lieutenant of Territorial militia.

PIATT, for James A. Piatt, Sr., who settled in that area in 1829, coming from Indiana.

POPE, for Nathaniel Pope, first Territorial Secretary of State (1809-1816), and last Territorial Delegate to Congress from Illinois.

STEPHENSON, for Benjamin Stephenson, prominent pioneer, a Colonel Territorial militia, and Adjutant General of the Territory (1813-1814).

WHITE, for Leonard White, pioneer of Gallatin County, Major of Territorial militia, member of Constitutional Convention of 1818, State Senator in second and third General Assemblies.

WHITESIDE, for Samuel Whiteside, a Colonel of Territorial militia, Representative in the First General Assembly, and Brigadier General of militia during Black Hawk War.

WILL, for Conrad Will, a pioneer politician, Territorial Recorder of Jackson County, member of the Constitutional Convention of 1818, and member of the General Assemblies of the State from the first to ninth inclusive.

Twenty-two counties were named in honor of military heroes, generally of the Revolution, but some of later wars.

BROWN, for Jacob Brown, Major General during the War of 1812, who won distinction at Sackett's Harbor, Chippewa and Niagara.

CLARK, for George Rogers Clark, a soldier of the Revolution, who, as a Colonel of Virginia militia, established Colonial control in the Illinois country, by the capture of Kaskaskia and Fort Vincennes.

DEKALB, for Johann DeKalb, a German baron, who served in the Colonies during the Revolution, and was mortally wounded at Camden, S. C., 1780.

GREENE, for Nathaniel Greene, a Major General in the Revolution, who distinguished himself as commander in the Southern Colonies.

JASPER, for William Jasper, a Sergeant of the Revolution who, during the action in Charleston harbor, replaced the flag shot away at Fort Moultrie, and later was killed at Savannah, 1779.

JODAVIESS, for Joseph Hamilton Daviess, prominent lawyer of Kentucky, United States District Attorney, and Major of militia; killed at the battle of Tippecanoe, 1811.

JOHNSON, for Richard M. Johnson, a Colonel of Kentucky militia, who served in Indian wars and the War of 1812, and reputed to have killed the Indian chief, Tecumseh, at the battle of the Thames; Representative in Congress and United States Senator from Kentucky and Vice-President, 1837-1841.

KNOX, for Henry Knox, a soldier of the Revolution who commanded the storming party at Stony Point, later a Major General and Washington's Secretary of War.

MARION, for Francis Marion, a soldier of the Revolution who distinguished himself as a partisan commander in the Carolinas.

MERCER, for Hugh Mercer, a General of the Revolution, killed at the battle of Princeton.

MONTGOMERY, for Richard Montgomery, a Revolutionary General, of Irish birth, who was killed before Quebec, December 31, 1775.

MORGAN, for Daniel Morgan, a General of the Revolution, who, as commander of the "Rifle Brigade," served with distinction at Quebec, Saratoga, the Cowpens, and other important engagements.

MOULTRIE, for William Moultrie, a General of the Revolution, who built Fort Moultrie and successfully defended it.

PIKE, for Zebulon Pike, an early explorer of the Louisiana purchase. Pike's Peak was named in his honor. He was a General of the War of 1812 and was killed at York, Canada.

PULASKI, for Count Casimir Pulaski, a Polish exile who espoused the cause of the Colonies during the Revolution and was killed at the attack on Savannah, 1779.

PUTNAM, for Israel Putnam, a Major General of the Revolution.

SCHUYLER, for Philip Schuyler, a soldier of the French and Indian wars, a Major General of the Revolution, a member of the Continental Congress and United States Senator from New York.

STARK, for John Stark, a soldier of the French and Indian wars, a Major General of the Revolution, who served with distinction at Bunker Hill, Trenton, Princeton, and Bennington.

ST CLAIR, for Arthur St. Clair, a soldier of the French and Indian wars, a Major General during the Revolution, Commander-in-Chief of the Army after the Revolution, and Governor of the Territory of the United States northwest of the Ohio.

WARREN, for Joseph Warren, a physician and soldier who served at Lexington, a Major General of Massachusetts militia; killed at the battle of Bunker Hill.

WAYNE, for Anthony Wayne, a surveyor and politician of Pennsylvania, a Major General during the Revolution, Commander-in-Chief of the Army after General St. Clair, and successful Indian Fighter in the Northwest Territory.

Three counties were named in honor of naval commanders:

LAWRENCE, for Captain James Lawrence, Commander of the Chesapeake, who was mortally wounded in an engagement between that vessel and the British vessel, Shannon, during the War of 1812.

MCDONOUGH, for Thomas McDonough, a Commodore of the United States Navy, who commanded the fleet on Lake Champlain in a successful engagement with the British fleet, near Plattsburg, 1814.

PERRY, for Oliver Hazard Perry, a Commodore of the United States Navy, who won distinction as Commander of the fleet in the battle of Lake Erie, in 1813.

Twenty-one counties were named for statesmen and politicians, not citizens of Illinois, some of whom had distinguished themselves in military as well as civil life.

CALHOUN, for John C. Calhoun, a lawyer and statesman, Representative in Congress and United States Senator from South Carolina, Secretary of War under Monroe, Vice-President of the United States, and Secretary of State under Tyler, and was recognized as the "Father of Nullification."

CARROLL, for Charles Carroll of Carrollton, a statesman of the Revolutionary period, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and United States Senator from Maryland.

CASS, for Lewis Cass, a soldier as well as statesman, Territorial Governor of Michigan, Minister to France, United States Senator from Michigan, Secretary of War under Jackson, Secretary of State under Buchanan, and at one time a prominent candidate for the Presidency.

CLAY, for Henry Clay, a statesman and political orator, Representative in Congress and United States Senator from Kentucky, three times Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, famous as the author of the political measures known as the "Missouri Compromise," and a prominent candidate for the Presidency.

CLINTON, for DeWitt Clinton, a distinguished lawyer, financier and statesman, Mayor of the city and Governor of the State of New York, United States Senator and chief promoter of the Erie Canal.

CRAWFORD, for William H. Crawford of Georgia, United States Senator, Minister of France, Secretary of War, Secretary of the Treasury, and a prominent candidate for the Presidency in 1824.

DEWITT, for DeWitt Clinton. (See Clinton County.)

FRANKLIN, for Benjamin Franklin, philosopher, statesman, diplomatist, author, printer, a member of the Continental Congress, Ambassador to France, and (before the Revolution) Deputy Postmaster General of the British Colonies in America.

GALLATIN, for Albert Gallatin, a statesman and financier, Representative in Congress from Pennsylvania, Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, and Minister to France and England.

GRUNDY, for Felix Grundy, a lawyer and politician, United States Senator from Tennessee, and Attorney General of the United States.

HAMILTON, for Alexander Hamilton, a soldier, statesman, author and financier, aid on the staff of Washington during the Revolution, a member of the Continental Congress, first Secretary of the Treasury (1789-1795), and Commander-in-Chief of the United States Army in 1799.

HANCOCK, for John Hancock, a prominent figure of the Revolutionary period, a Major General of militia, President of the Continental Congress, first signer of the Declaration, and first Governor of the State of Massachusetts.

HENRY, for Patrick Henry, a lawyer, orator and statesman of the Revolutionary period, a member of the Continental Congress, and Governor of Virginia.

KENDALL, for Amos Kendall, a successful politician and journalist, Postmaster General under Jackson, and as partner of S. F. B. Morse, the inventor of the electric telegraph, he contributed largely to the commercial success of that invention.

LEE, for Richard Henry Lee, an orator and statesman of the Revolutionary period, a member of the Continental Congress, a Representative in Congress and United States Senator from Virginia.

LIVINGSTON, for Edward Livingston, a lawyer and statesman, Mayor of New York City, Representative in Congress from New York and later from Louisiana, United States Senator from the latter state, Secretary of State under Jackson, and United States Minister to France.

MACON, for Nathaniel Macon, a Colonel during the Revolution and later a Representative and United States Senator in Congress from North Carolina. He strenuously opposed the adoption of the United States Constitution as conferring powers on the Federal government which should be reserved to the States.

MARSHALL, for John Marshall, a soldier of the Revolution, statesman, author and jurist, Ambassador to France, Representative in Congress from Virginia, Secretary of State and Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

RANDOLPH, for Edmund Randolph, a soldier of the Revolution, a lawyer and statesman, member of the Continental Congress, Attorney General and Governor of Virginia, Secretary of State of the United States and Attorney General under Washington.

SHELBY, for Isaac Shelby, a soldier of the Revolution and Indian wars, Governor of Kentucky (1792-1796) and again (1812-1816). He commanded the Kentucky troops in the battle of the Thames in the War of 1812.

TAZEWELL, for Lyttleton W. Tazewell, an eminent lawyer, Governor, Representative in Congress, and United States Senator from Virginia.

Nine counties of Illinois adopted the names of counties of other states through the influence of emigrants from the counties whose names were thus adopted: CHAMPAIGN and RICHLAND from Ohio; CHRISTIAN, HARDIN, HENDERSON, MASON, SCOTT, and WOODFORD from Kentucky; and WILLIAMSON from Tennessee.

Seven counties bear Indian names, given originally, as a general rule, to a creek, river or lake, and afterward transferred to the county. These named are IROQUOIS, KANKAKEE, MACOUPIN, PEORIA, SANGAMON, WABASH and WINNEBAGO.

Fourteen other counties derive their names from sources so diverse that they cannot easily be classified under any special head.

BOONE, for Daniel Boone, a pioneer hunter, Indian fighter and pathfinder of the early days.

BUREAU, for Pierre Buero, a French trader with the Indians.

CUMBERLAND, from the Cumberland road, named in its turn from the town of Cumberland, Maryland, which derived its name from the mountain range of the same name adopted, presumably, from the Cumberland mountains of Great Britain.

DUPAGE, from a small river of the same name said to have derived its name from a French trapper and trader of that region.

EFFINGHAM, for Lord Edward Effingham, who resigned his commission as general in the British army, 1775, refusing to serve in the war against the colonies.

FULTON, for Robert Fulton, the first successful builder of steamboats on American waters.

JERSEY, for the State of New Jersey, which derived its name from the Isle of Jersey, Great Britain.

LAKE, for Lake Michigan.

LASALLE, for Robert de LaSalle, the French explorer who effected the first white settlements in Illinois and explored the Mississippi to the Gulf.

MASSAC, from Fort Massac, a corruption of a French surname, Massiac.

ROCK ISLAND, from the rock island of that name in the Mississippi.

SALINE, from Saline creek, so called on account of numerous salt springs in that locality.

UNION, from the federal union of the American States.

VERMILION, from the river of that name, the principal branches of which flow through the county.

May & June 2004 Happenings

BUSINESS MEETING

Fourteen members were present for the May meeting. The new alarm system for the Faherty House and office are in place, will educate members in proper use. Trish announced that work is still in progress to get the Sutterer barn on the National Register of Historic Places.

The next scheduled business meeting will be on Monday July 12, 2004 at 6:30 P.M. at the office behind the Faherty house. The book committee will meet the same day at 5:30 P.M.

OFFICE/LIBRARY & MUSEUM

Office/library is open from 10:00 AM until 2:00 PM on first and third Saturday through the third Saturday of October or by appointment. If you are planning a trip to our county and want to do research on a day we are not open contact one of the names listed at the top of the letter and we will try to make arrangements for someone to meet with you at our library or the court house if you need to check the probate records – all other records are available to researchers without the help of a member of the Society.

The museum is open on the first and third Saturday and Sunday from 1:00 PM until 3 PM or by appointment. Contact Nancy or Olene to set up appointment.

DUES & HERITAGE FOR 2004

Dues (yearly membership) $6.00 -- Life Membership (dues only) $50.00
Dues & Heritage (yearly) $21.00 -- Heritage (for Life Members) $15.00

QUILT TICKETS, MEMBERSHIP STATUS & BOOK LIST

This is the month that quilt tickets are being sent for the drawing that will be held at the September 13, 2004 meeting. To be included in the drawing, tickets must be returned by the end of August.

Since we had problems last year with the tickets sent by e-mail and I have been unable to get the book list to configure and attach to the electronic newsletter and there seems to be a problem with members knowing the status of their membership we are including all of these problem children in this mailing with the hopes that it will be more helpful to all members.

For those who receive the newsletter electronically and would still like a copy that way for their file just e-mail us at histsoc@brick.net and a copy will be sent that way also.

A Genealogical History of Luther Chapel of Perry County, Missouri

by Larry Hoehn

Today Luther Chapel is almost entirely forgotten. Its former existence is unknown even by those who live near its still extant cemetery. The memory of the former log church building has grown weak in the minds of the few elderly who recall the crumbling building situated just south of a wildly overgrown cemetery. Other facts have vanished with the passing of persons who know it well. Yet there are still some records and some memories left to piece together a history of its former life.

On 11 May 1851 the constitution of "Luthers Chapel Evangelical Lutheran Church" was adopted and Luther Chapel became a reality. Its first church leaders were Rev. Jonathan Krimminger (pastor), Henry Eddleman (elder), and Joel Rhyne (deacon). The church property consisted of three acres conveyed by Henry Eddleman and his wife and a log building which had possibly been moved from the Apple Creek Community a few miles to the East. The first members of new congregation had come primarily from North Carolina in scattered groups from the turn of the century up to the 1830s. They had apparently been without the benefits of a clergy before organizing Luther Chapel.

In the beginning the church grew rapidly. By the end of 1851 there were 48 adult members, 20 baptisms of children, and 4 adult baptisms. During the next few years up to 1855 the church experienced its greatest growth in church activities. Frequently whole families of children were baptised on the same day. By the advent of the Civil War there were 74 members on the roll, 89 baptisms of children, 19 baptisms of adults, one recorded death, and no recorded marriages.

The small congregation was apparently disbanded during the Civil War, but on 15 June 1867 it was reorganized under the leadership of Rev. T. W. Sargent. But the church never regained its earlier momentum. The membership of 53 in 1867 had dwindled to 23 by 1870. Church members were moving west, some were expelled, and pastors were hard to keep in a small congregation. Its problems of smallness were shared with other "English Lutheran Churches" in the area.

In March, 1875, at a meeting held in Bollinger County with Rev. William Jenkins, President of the Synod, it was decided that the congregations of Luther Chapel and Mt. Zion of Perry County, Sargent's Chapel of Cape Girardeau County, and Cedar Creek of Bollinger County be consolidated under Sargent's Chapel. (It is ironic that the "English Lutheran" Churches of the region had such difficulties of obtaining ministers when there were many very well-qualified Lutheran ministers in east Perry County. These were the "German Lutherans" who had come to Perry County in 1839 to found a religious empire in the wilderness. Their eventual success became the prestigious Lutheran Church--Missouri Synod. A Lutheran church was either "English Lutheran" or "German Lutheran" depending on the language used in the church services and not an indication of their heritage since almost all were German in either group.)

This was not completely the end of Luther Chapel, however, since services were still occasionally held at the Chapel up to the 1880s. There were very few recorded church statistics after 1880, almost none after 1900, and one death in 1930. In the 1920s the old log church building was ready to fall down and its adjoining cemetery was overgrown with briars, trees, and brush. After the church fell down or was torn down, the cemetery lost its identity and became known as the "Old Hart Graveyard" after a nearby landowner.

During the brief life of Luther Chapel there were recorded baptisms of 155 children, 19 adult baptisms, 7 marriages, and 12 deaths. There are 63 tombstones or other markings in the graveyard plus many apparently unmarked graves.

In August, 1975, I visited the Old Hart Cemetery to record the tombstone inscriptions. To my surprize the cemetery was not the jungle I had expected, but rather a well-kept graveyard. It had been cleared of brush and fallen trees in the early 1970s by several descendants of the church. There was no evidence that a church had ever existed just south of the .4 acre triangular graveyard. Roads have been slightly changed and the graveyard is now at the fork of several gravel roads about halfway beteen Longtown and Biehle. More precisely its location is SW¼ of SEC. 22 in Twp. 34 N., R 11 E.

1. The original church record book--now in the possession of the 80 year old gentleman who takes care of the cemetery. He lives in Daisy, Mo., several miles from the cemetery. I have made three xerox copies of the records--one of which I am submitting to the St. Louis Genealogical Society.

2. Tombstone inscriptions of old Hart Cemetery--compiled by the author in August, 1975. A copy is being submitted to the St. Louis Genealogical Society.

3. Miscellaneous family records, both oral and written, of some of the descendants of the church.

SOME RECORDS OF LUTHER CHAPEL EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH OF PERRY COUNTY, MISSOURI

Volume X, No. 3 of the StLGS Quarterly featured an interesting account of the founding and eventual demise of Luther Chapel, with a listing of burials in its cemetery -- now called "Old Hart" cemetery. This article was contributed by Larry Hoehn, who also provided the material which is included here -- baptisms, both infant and adult; marriages; and deaths. Briefly, Luther Chapel had its beginning in May, 1851, grew rapidly until the Civil War, when it was apparently disbanded; was reorganized in 1867, but never regained its earlier strength. There are few recorded statistics after 1880 and the old log church building fell into ruin in the 1920's. No trace of it remains today.

Editor's note: Mr. LeBoutillier is a family genealogist who has recently taken a part-time job in order to have more time to devote to research. He has had eight years experience working with English records. The indexes to English and Welsh birth, marriages, and death certificates and wills are on open shelves in London; even the basic information they contain can be valuable. Mr. LeB. offers to provide copies of certificates at less than the cost when they are provided, by mail, by the civil authorities.

Montgomery County Illinois Marriage Records 1821 - 1850

MONTGOMERY COUNTY, ILLINOIS,

MARRIAGE RECORDS, 1821-1850

Compiled and prepared for publication by:

Margaret Simpson Rambo
Lynn Boyd Reener
Nadine Moomaw Walker

Published in 1980 by:

Montgomery County Genealogical Society
P.O. Box 212
Litchfield, Illinois 62056

"All things to nothingness descend,
Grow old and die and meet their end;
Man dies, iron rust, wood goes decayed,
Towers fall, walls crumble, roses fade...
Nor long shall any name resound
Beyond the grave, unless it be found
In some clerk's book; it is the pen
Gives immortality to men."

from Roman de Rou, by Wace, c1100 - c1175

We sincerely thank Mrs. Eunice May Russell, Montgomery County Clerk, for her cooperation and continued support of our organization, and Mr. LaRue Lovelace, Montgomery County Treasurer, for providing a place in his office for our researchers to work. We also thank the pleasant and helpful staff members in both of these county offices.

INTRODUCTION

Montgomery County, Illinois, was established 12 February 1821 from Madison and Bond Counties. It originally included part of what is now Christian County. The most eastern portion of the present county was part of Fayette County until 1827. The changes in the boundaries are shown in the maps on the three following pages.

The first two marriages in the county were those of Nicholas Lockerman and David McCoy (names of brides not given), but, as the ceremonies were performed before the county was organized, there are no definite records.

The first marriage license issued in the county was on 25 April 1821 to J. M. Shurtleff and Polly Kirkpatrick. They were married on 6 May 1821 by James Street. The first marriage recorded in the county was that of Samuel Prater and Nancy Walker on 29 April 1821, Joseph Wright officiating. Their license was issued on 26 April 1821.

The information contained in this book was copied from the original documents (marriage record books #1 1821-1841, #2 1842-1849, and #3 1849-1853; marriage licenses; and marriage certificates) on file at the Montgomery County Courthouse in Hillsboro by Margaret Simpson Rambo and Lynn Boyd Reener. All differences between the records have been noted. Names are spelled as shown in the records, and different spellings are listed. If a license was issued but no marriage certificate returned, this is also listed. Where consent was given by a family member or gaurdian, this information is given. The name of the person performing the ceremony is also listed.

Township Maps..... 9

This booklet is designed to help researchers locate the cemeteries of Montgomery County, Illinois. Every effort has been made to show accurate locations of the cemeteries still in existence, as well as, those that are extinct.

Mr. Walter Sanders, county historian, genealogist, and board member of our society, allowed us to use his materials on cemetery locations. Working from this material, maps were drawn and members checked locations using the new county road numbers given on the Coordinate Map of Montgomery County, Illinois. The Illustrated Atlas of Montgomery County, Illinois 1874 was also used to verify locations. If a cemetery location was found in one of our sources; but, we could find no further information, that cemetery is marked with an asterisk (*). If there is information on the cemetery; but, it can no longer be found, the word "extinct" will follow the name. If a cemetery has been known by more than one name, each name has been listed.

This booklet was very much a group project. We would like to thank everyone who assisted in any way---

1. Mr. Walter Sanders for the use of his materials

2. The Rockford Map Publishers, Inc. for allowing us to use the maps from their Land Atlas and Plat Book, Montgomery County, Illinois 1980-1982 as a guide for our maps

3. Lynn (Boyd) Reener who drew the maps and prepared the booklet for publication

4. Lynda Dalhaus who drew the cover and did the calligraphy

5. And the following members who drove the roads, made phone calls, and tried to locate the cemeteries---John and Margaret (Simpson) Rambo, co-chairpersons of the cemetery project; Judy (Keith) Dalhaus; Donna (White) Oller; Julia Sherer; Connee Speiser; Barbara (Campbell) Robinson; Walter Robinson; and Nadine Walker.

If you have further information on these cemeteries, corrections, or additions, please send them to the society.

This booklet is designed to help researchers locate the cemeteries of Montgomery County, Illinois. Every effort has been made to show accurate locations of the cemeteries still in existence, as well as, those that are extinct.

Mr. Walter Saulsbury, county historian, genealogist, and based member of our society, allowed us to use his materials on cemetery locations. Working from this material, maps were drawn and members checked locations using the new county road markers along on the Coordinate Map of Montgomery County, Illinois. The Illustrated Atlas of Montgomery County, Illinois 1878 was also used to verify locations. If a cemetery location was found in one of our sources, but, we could find no further information, that cemetery is marked with an asterisk (*). If there is information on the cemetery, but, it was no longer in found, the word "extinct" will follow the name. If a cemetery has been known by more than one name, each name has been listed.

This booklet was very much a group project. We would like to thank everyone who assisted in any way--

Zanesville (stones used as a sidewalk 1940's)	3 (extinct)	30
Zanesville (broken stones in a plowed field 1940's)	8 (extinct)	30

The following were reported to have been in existence; but, we have been unable to determine more than the section where they were to have been located. They do not appear on the maps.

2 children's graves in section 14 of Audubon Township - We do not know if this is in the north or south part.

possibly another cemetery in section 12 in addition to the United Baptist Church Cemetery in Audubon Township the south part

3 graves on a farm in section 2 of South Fillmore

The names Tennessee Cemetery and Pyatt/Piatt Cemetery have also been mentioned as being in Montgomery County. We believe that the Tennessee Cemetery is possibly just across the county line from Audubon Township in Shelby County. The only reference we could find for Pyatt/Piatt in South Fillmore where the cemetery is reported to have beer is "Piatts Branch" which ran diagonally through sections 10, 14, and 24.

Please contact the society if you have further information, additions, or corrections.

The following is an index of cemeteries which we have listed as "Name Unknown".

Our following were reported to have been in satisfactory but, we have been unable to physically see them when the sections where they were to have been located. They do not appear on the map.

2 Hilliard's graves in section 30 at Hinsdale Memorial - we do not know if this is the site or which year.

Five big pioneer cemetery in section 32 in Hillsdale to the United Methodist Church, in Hinsdale Township the South Park

2 graves in a park in section 2 of Fremont Township

The Jesse Tompkins Cemetery and Fred's Last Cemetery have also been mentioned as being in Montgomery County. We believe that the Tompkins Cemetery is located just across the county line from Hinsdale Township in Bureau County. The only interment we could find for Fred's/Plato in Bureau Township where the cemetery is reported to have been is "Plato Branch" which ran diagonally through sections 10, 14, and 34.

Volume 1

MONTGOMERY COUNTY, ILLINOIS

CEMETERIES, VOLUME I

Arranged & Published by: Lynn Boyd Reener

1985

The cemeteries of Montgomery County, Illinois, were copied during the 1940's and 1950's by Litchfield High School history students under the direction of their teacher, Mr. Walter R. Sanders. Mr. Sanders had these listings bound and they, along with most of his genealogical collection, were purchased by the Litchfield Carnegie Public Library a few years ago. There is also a set in the Illinois State Historical Library.

These volumes of cemetery listings are hard to use because they only contain a surname index. Also, you will find partial listings in more than one volume, instead of the complete listing for a cemetery in one volume.

In order to make the material easier to use and more accessable to researchers, I have organized the material by cemetery and arranged it by township location.

During the years he taught at the Litchfield High School Mr. Sanders planted little seeds of genealogical interest. Many of his former students are very involved in genealogy today. This book has been published in his honor.

Many of the stones listed can no longer be found. They are either gone or no longer readable. The material has not been verified, only re-organized. It will be the responsibility of the researcher to verify this information either by a visit to the cemetery or by other supporting evidence.

In 1956, the Illinois Veterans' Commission published a series of books called Honor Roll, State of Illinois. These books included names, burial places, etc. for veterans buried prior to July 1, 1955, and were done by county. This information is included in a seperate section of the book.

For your convenience, I have added township maps which show locations of present and extinct cemeteries. Also included are a county map and an alphabetical list of all cemeteries in the county.

For more detailed maps to help you find the cemeteries, see Montgomery County, Illinois, Cemetery Location Maps by the Montgomery County Genealogical Society.

The 1860 census project was begun in the fall of 1980. The census was divided into sections and these sections were assigned to our volunteer copiers.

Copiers were asked to copy all information onto printed forms exactly as it appeared on the microfilm. If there was any question concerning spelling, numbers, etc., it was marked on the form.

After the census was copied, all questionable items were re-checked. Then a surname index was compiled.

We have tried to make this publication as free of errors as possible. However, as every genealogist knows, this is next to impossible. The writing, in many cases, was very hard to decipher. Mr. Phillips did not always make the same letter in the same way. His ry combination was very difficult, as were, his m, n, and u and D and P. Please check all possible spellings. Everything was copied as it appeared on the microfilm. In some cases, what was on the microfilm does not seem to make good sense. Anything still questionable is followed by a (?) question mark.

The microfilm was titled---National Archives Microfilm Publications, Population Schedules of the Eighth Census of the United States 1860, Roll 214, Illinois, Vol. 31 (1-358), Montgomery County, National Archives, National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration, Washington 1967.

Each page was headed with a page number and---SCHEDULE 1. Free Inhabitants in _____in the County of _____ State of_____ Enumerated by me, on the _____Day of _____, 1860 _____Ass't Marshall. Post Office _____.

Jesse J. Phillips took the entire census for Montgomery County. The census was taken during the months of June, July, August, and September.

Mortality Schedules were taken concurrently with the 1860 census. They contain the names of persons who died during the twelve-month period prior to the census.

Pages of the Mortality Schedule were numbered 1 thru 7 and were headed with---SCHEDULE 3. Persons who died during the year ending 1st June 1860 in _____in the County of _____State of _____ enumerated by me, _____Ass't Marshall.

Section one of this book contains the material from the census including: dwelling number, family number, given name and surname of each person, age, sex, color, occupation (listed by code), and birthplace. Real estate and personal property values are indicated by R and P; amounts not given. Each page contains two columns and each column contains one page of the census.

Section two is the mortality schedule which contains the following: name of person who died, age, sex, color, free or slave, married or widowed, place of birth, month in which the person died, occupation, disease or cause of death, number of days ill.

Section three is the surname index. We have used the census page number and have not numbered the pages of the book to eleminate confusion. If a name appears on the mortality schedule, it is indexed by the page number of the mortality schedule preceeded by an M.

The mortality schedule for Montgomery County contained 7 pages. Each page was headed with the page number and -- Schedule 3. Persons who died during the year ending 1st June 1860 in (location in county) in the County of Montgomery State of Illinois enumerated by me, Jesse J. Phillips Ass't Marshall.

Explanation of columns shown in the 1860 mortality schedule---

Column 1 - Name of every person who died during the year ending 1st June, 1860 whose usual place of abode at the time of death was in this family

Column 2 - Age

Column 3 - Sex

Column 4 - Color - White, Black, Mulatto

Column 5 - Free or Slave

Column 6 - Married or Widowed

Column 7 - Place of birth, naming the state, territory, or country

Column 8 - The month in which the person died

Column 9 - Profession, occupation or trade

Column 10 - Disease or cause of death

Column 11 - Number of days ill

Mr. Phillips did not use columns 4 or 5 in his original copy; therefore, we will omit them from the typed copy.
